

THE CHINESE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Common Requirements for Taught Postgraduate Programmes

Graduate requirements

All TPg students are required to fulfill certain requirements for graduation. Some of the requirements are compulsory for all (e.g. a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0) while some others are specific to individual programmes or individual students. Students should therefore refer to the Course List, Course Descriptions and Study Scheme of their own programmes in the Postgraduate Student Handbook for the specific requirements.

Coursework requirements

The coursework requirements list the required courses and elective courses, if applicable, of the programme. Students should take at least one course in each term, unless otherwise stated in the study scheme or approved by the Graduate Division Head concerned.

Other requirements

Graduate Divisions may prescribe additional graduation requirements for students of their programmes. Some of these requirements are listed below as examples:

- Language requirement, e.g. knowledge of a third language
- Graduate Divisions may specify a minimum cumulative GPA (e.g. 2.5) for graduation
- Additional requirements for individual students may be set up by the Graduate Division/Programme, depending on the academic progress of the students
