Preface

THE Gender Role Research Programme was first established in 1985 under the Centre for Hong Kong Studies at The Chinese University of Hong Kong. It made a significant stride through its affiliation to the new Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies (HKIAPS) in September 1990. The Gender Research Programme is set up to promote interdisciplinary research and knowledge dissemination on the roles and activities of women and men in the context of changing social, economic, and cultural milieu of Chinese societies across the Asia-Pacific Region. Programme members include faculty and staff from the University as well as other academic institutions. To keep abreast of developments in the field, the Programme also develops contact networks with women's organizations and institutions for gender studies in Hong Kong and other parts of the world.

A database on gender studies has been compiled and regularly updated to provide reference source for research on the subject. An annotated bibliography on women's studies in Hong Kong from 1975 to 1985 was published in 1987. The second bibliography builds on efforts of the past, but covering studies done within a wider time frame — from the early 1960s to 1989 and was published in March 1990. The present edition has updated the entries to include recent publications up to 1991. The 450 plus titles of books, journal articles, research reports, conference papers, theses and dissertations, and government reports contained in this bibliography are alphabetically listed by author under the following subjects:

- Career and Employment
- Deviant Behaviour
- Education
- Family, Marriage and Fertility
- General Topics
- Health: Mental and Physical
- Political, Social and Legal Aspects
- Sex Role and Feminism

The project is funded by the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies. Ms. S. H. Pun and Ms. Janet Chang helped in the initial compilation of the bibliography. Their assistance is gratefully acknowledged.

We recognize that there may be inadvertent omissions and errors in our entries. We would appreciate authors to send in their amendments and reprints to update our bibliography.
