RESEARCH NEWS

• HK$80 million from the RGC for 1996-97

One hundred and eight research proposals submitted by academic and research staff of the University have succeeded in obtaining earmarked grants totalling HK$64,903,000 from the Research Grants Council (RGC) this year. Last year's figures were 112 projects and HK$53,344,000. The University has also received a direct grant of $15.6 million to finance small projects.

For 1996-97, the government has made available a total of $331 million to seven UGC-funded tertiary institutions for research purposes: $66 million for direct allocation to the institutions to finance small projects; $8 million for central allocation to strengthen the research base of these institutions; and $257 million for 464 selected research proposals submitted by the academic and research personnel in the seven institutions.

The 108 CUHK projects fall into 10 different areas: computing science, information technology and applied mathematics (17); electrical and electronic engineering (6); mechanical, production and industrial engineering (1); physical sciences (16); pure mathematics (4); biological sciences (13); medicine, dentistry and health (28); administrative, business and social studies (12); arts and languages (8); and law, architecture, town planning and other professional and vocational subjects (3).

Details of the 108 projects will be announced later.

• Relationship between Exercise and Health under Probe

Researchers from the Department of Community and Family Medicine recently obtained a grant of HK$565,490 from the Health Care and Promotion Fund to study the pattern of habitual physical activity, health fitness and behaviour among the local population aged 40-59, as well as their knowledge of the relation between exercise and health, their attitudes towards exercise, and perceived barriers against increasing physical activity. Undertaken by Prof. Suzanne Chan Ho, Prof. Lee Shiu-hung, and Ms. Chan Sieu Gaen, the study, entitled 'Habitual Physical Activity, Health Fitness and Behaviour among Adult Population in Hong Kong', is expected to last a year and seven months.

Fifty-five new faculty members attended a one-and-a-half day orientation workshop organized by the Teaching Development Unit (TDU) on 29th and 30th August 1996. The purpose of the workshop, which made its debut last year, is to prepare new teaching staff for the tasks ahead and to familiarize them with the University and its services. The theme for this year was 'The Art of University Teaching'.

The event started with welcoming speeches by the head of the TDU, Prof. Leslie N. K. Lo, and pro-vice-chancellor, Prof. Ambrose Y. C. King. In the ensuing experience-sharing session, Prof. Lo and seven experienced teaching staff representing the spectrum of faculties spoke to the new staff on research and teaching. This was followed by questions from the participants.

After a sumptuous lunch at the University Guest House, the afternoon session began opportunely with a half-hour campus tour. The group then returned to the Wong Foo Yuan Building for a session called 'Pathways to Excellence', wherein the newcomers were assigned to four different groups for discussions with experienced CUHK staff on teaching methods and research activities.

On the second day the new staff were introduced to the library, computer, and personnel services of the University by representatives from the respective sections.

The CUHK Newsletter spoke to six participants of the orientation programme about their feelings on the workshop — which part they found the most/least useful, what topics they think should have been covered but weren't... All of them say they enjoyed the experience-sharing session of the first day, and have constructive comments to make on the other parts.

Prof. John Miltenburg is a visiting professor in the Department of Systems Engineering and Engineering Management. He is on a year's research leave from McMaster University in Canada, where he has been teaching for the past 14 years. Prof. Miltenburg says the first day of the workshop exceeded his expectations. In particular, he comments, 'The theme, the programme, and the calibre of many of the speakers in the morning and the group leaders in the afternoon combined to create a quiet but unmistakable message that teaching is important at The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and that, like art, it is something faculty members continually work at and derive pleasure from. ...Probably because I'm getting older, I especially enjoyed the comments of the older speakers.' Prof. Miltenburg observes however that in the group discussions, certain members were rather quiet. Some, he says, may be recent Ph.D. graduates who might have felt themselves inexperienced in teaching or who might have been uncomfortable using English. To help bring out their ideas, Prof. Miltenburg suggests that in future each group member be asked to write down one point on the topic under discussion and then turn to his/her neighbour to discuss each other's point. Either of the two points or both can then be presented to the group.

Prof. Vito Bertin received his education in Switzerland and taught architecture at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich. He had his first experience of the East while teaching architecture at the South-East University in Nanjing. Before joining the Architecture Department at CUHK he taught computer-aided architecture design at the Kobe Design University in Japan for three years. Prof. Bertin says he very much enjoyed hearing the views of old-timers and

John Miltenburg:
I specially enjoyed the comments of the older speakers.

Vito Bertin:
A flow chart explaining the sequence of applying for different types of identification will be useful.

Catherine McBride:
I would like to hear more about using English to teach Chinese students.

Valerie Levy:
Discussions could have been a little more structured.

David Ahlstrom:
Information on grants is too general.

Michael McClellan:
I have a better understanding of what the University expects of me.

meeting other new staff. He also appreciated the information booklets handed out. However he thinks it would be helpful to put in a flow chart the ideal sequence of applying for the different types of identification on campus — the staff ID card, the library borrower's card, computer accounts, parking permits, and so on — since each step is often dependent on the completion of other steps.

Prof. Valerie Levy of the Nursing Department lived in Hong Kong for a short period of time 30 years ago. She had a good time here, so when she saw the advertisement for her post, she responded. Before joining the University, she had been teaching nursing, in particular midwifery, up to master's level for six years in London. For Prof. Levy, meeting and talking to people during lunch and tea was a very interesting part of the workshop. Although she also found the computer lab tour interesting, she would have liked instructions on getting on the Internet. Regarding the group discussions, since 'the participants' backgrounds vary greatly in terms of teaching experience and the nature of their disciplines', she suggests that it would be helpful for the discussions to be 'a little more structured'. But overall Prof. Levy says, 'It was a very good one-and-a-half days. The workshop made me feel I'm part of the University.'

Prof. Catherine McBride of the Psychology Department obtained her Ph.D. from the University of Southern California and pursued post-doctoral studies at Florida State University where she had also been teaching for three semesters before joining The Chinese University. This is not her first time in Hong Kong; she has visited China and Hong Kong a couple of times before with her Chinese husband. She liked the questions raised at the end of the experience-sharing session, especially those that addressed the issue of teaching in English, the students' second language. Since she doesn't speak Cantonese, Prof. McBride says she would have liked to hear more about people's experience in using English to teach students for whom it is a second language. But as it was, she found the discussion topics 'too philosophical... unanswerable or would take years to think about.'

Prof. David Ahlstrom of the Department of Management has been teaching both full-time and part-time in graduate schools since 1988, including at Rutgers University and New York University. In 1989 he spent a year in Hong Kong on an international studies exchange programme. The TDU workshop has given him some very good teaching suggestions, he says. He also points out that the information on the various grants was helpful, albeit a bit too general as each department has different requirements.

Prof. Michael McClellan of the Music Department received his Ph.D. in 1994. He has taught at graduate level in the United States for three years. The most beneficial aspect of the workshop for him was meeting new faculty members and having a forum to discuss their common concerns. The workshop also afforded them the opportunity to learn from one another's past experience. Prof. McClellan says that he now has a better understanding of what the University expects of him and what he can expect from his students. He points out, however, that perhaps more time can be devoted to a discussion of problems associated with teaching students whose mother tongue is not English. ○

HKIAPS

The Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies recently published two occasional papers:

Occasional paper no. 51, The Road to the Development of Social Welfare in Hong Kong: The Historical Key Issues, by Dr. Jik-Joen Lee.

While economic development has always remained at the top of the government's agenda in Hong Kong and its commitment and efforts in this respect have made the territory a successful economic story, the government's obligation to develop social welfare for the sick, the dependent, and the destitute remains to be examined. Hong Kong's modern social welfare system was notably not built by the government but primarily by Western-style non-government agencies with religious backgrounds before the 1960s. This paper provides background information on the government's past and present roles in the areas of economic and social development in Hong Kong, as well as the development of the social work profession.

Occasional paper No. 52, Hong Kong in Reenchantment: A Case Study of the New Religious Discourse, by Ms. Cherie Shun-ching Chan.

The proliferation of new religious cults in Hong Kong in the recent two decades displays a paradoxical picture. On the one hand it signifies the emergence of a societal tide of reenchantment. On the other hand it appears to embody vast disenchanted dispositions. This study explores the empirical sacred constitution of a new religious cult — the Lingsu Exo-Esoterics, in order to understand the elusive phenomenon of the new religious discourse and its implications for social reality.

The papers are written in English with Chinese abstracts, and sold at HK$30 per copy. Those interested please contact the HKIAPS at 2609 8770.

Exhibition of the Mufei Collection of Ceramics

Large kendi with floral scrolls in underglaze blue, Vietnamese, 15th century

The Art Museum has organized a series of events to celebrate its silver jubilee, the first being the exhibition of the Mufei Collection of Ceramics from 5th October to 10th November.

The Mufei Collection of Ceramics was built up during the 1960s and early 1970s by Prof. and Mrs. Cheng Te-k'un for the purposes of teaching and research, and has been well studied and written on. It consists of 268 items, and is particularly rich in Chinese export porcelain of the Qing dynasty for the European market, and Vietnamese and Thai ceramics. There are also wares of Persian, Japanese and other origins.

The Art Museum has recently acquired a portion of the collection which until now has been loaned to it on a long-term basis. The acquisition was made with the support of the Bei Shan Tang Foundation, the Friends of the Art Museum and the Development Fund of the Art Museum. Prof. and Mrs. Cheng have generously donated the entire proceeds (HK$1.5 million) back to the Art Museum to set up a Professor and Mrs. Cheng Te-k'un Academic Fund for Chinese Art and Archaeology. They have also donated the rest of the collection to the Art Museum for safekeeping and public display.

Prof. Cheng is a distinguished authority and scholar on Chinese archaeology, art history and anthropology. After his retirement from Cambridge University in 1974, he was appointed by The Chinese University as visiting professor of fine arts. For two decades he served in succession as dean of arts, pro-vice-chancellor, director of the Institute of Chinese Studies, and director of the Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art. Mrs. Cheng is a writer, painter and potter. At one time she was honorary lecturer of fine arts at the University, teaching pottery to undergraduates.

The opening ceremony of the exhibition and the inauguration of the academic fund will take place at 4.30 p.m. on 4th October 1996 at the Art Museum.

In Western folklore, mushrooms have always been associated with magic and the supernatural. In popular culture the name 'magic mushroom' is given to a certain type of the fungus believed to produce hallucinogenic effects when ingested. And strangely enough, toadstools, which are poisonous mushrooms, evoke disturbingly innocent images of Disneyesque forests wherein dwell little men in 'green jacket, red cap, and white owl's feather'.

In China, mushrooms and other kinds of edible fungi have long been known for their culinary value and medicinal properties, from lowering blood pressure to promoting longevity. Certain strains have even been thought to be powerful antidotes to almost all diseases.

If fungi do indeed work wonders, then the University is exceptionally well-endowed. Its 134-acre campus covers large areas of woods where every spring and summer all types of fungi grow literally under one's feet. Some of the larger edible strains, such as the lingchih (靈芝 ganoderma lucidum), the silver ear (銀耳 tremella fuciformis), and the Jew's-ear (木耳 auricularia auricula) are Chinese delicacies. The latter two, growing in ear-shaped projections on wood, little resemble their umbrella-like cousins.

Of the different mushrooms found on campus, the lingchih is often singled out for attention. Traditionally considered a kind of elixir, the lingchih and its beneficial effects have been popularized in recent years by New Age health trends. The plant is sold in its natural form or served in a sweet soup as a speciality in dessert shops throughout the territory, often at exorbitant prices. For some unknown reason, this rare species has been growing in profusion in recent years on campus — along the road from Fong Yun Wah Hall to the Benjamin Franklin Centre, in the courtyard of the Fung King Hey Building, near the Ho Sin Hang Engineering Building, and along Village Road. Usually found under the Taiwanese acacia (台灣相思), the lingchih looks like a whitish ball when young. After several days, it grows a brownish stem and the top slowly stretches itself out like the canopy of a parachute. When fully mature the entire plant is maroon in colour.

Chinese legend has it that the land where the lingchih grows is lucky and prosperous. Be it so or be it coincidence, this is certainly true of the University.

文物館銀禧紀念 舉辦木犀藏瓷展覽 設立藝術考古基金

文物館慶祝建館廿五周年，本月舉辦「木犀藏瓷」展覽，並設立「鄭德坤教授伉儷中國藝術考古學術基金」。

「木犀藏瓷」是鄭德坤教授伉儷在六十至七十年代早期蒐集之教研陶瓷藏品，共二百六十八項，以輸往歐洲的清朝外銷陶瓷，以及越南和泰國瓷器為主，是研究中國及東南亞貿易瓷的重要材料，寄存文物館多年，供

本校研究、教學和展覽。

鄭德坤教授早年致力四川史前考古，被譽為「四川考古之父」，曾先後於廈門大學、華西大學、劍橋大學和本校從事教育及研究逾六十年，著作等身，桃李滿門，對中國考古學、藝術史、史學、人類學貢獻良多。鄭夫人黃文宗女士乃散文家、畫家、陶瓷家，曾任本校藝術系榮譽講師，講授陶塑。

文物館得北山堂基金、文物館館友協會及文物館發展基金支持，募款購藏「木犀藏瓷」部分藏品，增添館內中國清代和東南亞外銷瓷品種。鄭教授伉儷將割愛所得之一百五十萬港元，全數捐贈文物館，以設立「鄭德坤教授伉儷中國藝術考古學術基金」，資助該館中國藝術考古研究、講座、交流等活動，又將「木犀藏瓷」其餘珍品慨贈文物館。

「木犀藏瓷」展覽由本月五日起假文物館西翼展覽廳舉行，展期至下月十日。展覽開幕禮暨基金成立儀式於十月四日下午四時半舉行，由署理校長金耀基教授主持，黃文宗女士主禮。

又一批同人退休了

本月初續有一批教職員退休，他們大多在中大工作逾二十年，對本校的成長和發展貢獻良多。離別在即，部分同人對本刊說出他們的感受，並透露未來動向。

金嘉倫先生

金嘉倫先生

校外進修學院高級專任導師

「校外進修學院的工作讓我發揮所長，實現理想，我衷心感謝中大給我這個機會。」金嘉倫先生說。

金先生早年於台灣師範大學及美國芝加哥美術學院攻讀藝術，一九六七年加入本校校外進修部任兼職專任導師，五年後轉為全職，專責發展藝術課程。

回顧近三十年的工作，金先生感到十分滿意：「校外進修學院的接觸面廣，提供多元化課程，有中國書畫、西畫、設計、工藝、攝影、電影、各種視覺藝術的實踐及理論課程……上課時間又具彈性，學額亦多，為香港培養不少藝術及設計

人才。」高峰時每年有五六千人次報讀，近年因其他大專院校開設類似課程，報讀人數才稍為下降，但每年也有三四千人次。

此外，藝術課程學員人才輩出，水準相當高，屢獲獎項；本港第一代傑出設計師中，便有不少是該院畢業生。金先生說：「截至九月中旬，我們已有十七名（最終人數應更多）學員及校友的作品入選本年度市政局藝術雙年展，其中一位還獲繪畫大獎。」

在校外進修學院工作，為金先生帶來莫大滿足，此際離去，唯一令他牽掛的是藝術課程能否進一步發展。退休後，他將全身投入藝術創作。他說：「過往都是從事行政工作，只能在餘閒繪畫，現在不用上班，要重投藝術創作的懷抱。」金先生於六月在廣州舉行了個人國畫展，並計劃日後繼續在香港以及東南亞其他大城市舉行畫展，難怪他說：「我的生活將更忙碌」。

黃暉明博士

社會學系高級講師

黃暉明博士於一九五七年入讀崇基學院，其後以交換生身分負笈美國，一九六三年返回母校崇基任教。與中大結緣近四十載，黃博士最懷念往昔校內那如家庭般緊密而和諧的人際關係。「可惜，香港工業化後，中大也由小家庭變為超大型工廠，人際關係冷漠，同事碰頭少，見面也

只談公事。」他又慨嘆說，教師兼顧的事務愈來愈多，不再光專注於教學及研究了。

黃暉明博士

張一孤先生

戚建邦博士 物理系高級講師

劉漢生教授 物理系副教授

黃博士表示，退休前的一段日子，有點兒心緒不寧，因為每當與即將退休的同事閑談時，大家都感受到長江後浪推前浪的無形壓力，催促他們讓位於年青一輩。

由於對香港有濃厚感情，黃博士會繼續留港，但不再全職工作。他會投入過往沒時間發揮的興趣和研究項目，還會多打網球、練書法、釣魚和到處旅遊。

張一孤先生

校外進修學院高級專任導師

張一孤先生清楚記得他是在一九六六年五月加入校外進修部，負責行政事務和講授酒店管理課程。那時校外進修部的職員人數不足十人，提供之課程種類有限，每年約一百個，報讀人次也只是五千多。

三十年後，校外進修部已易名為校外進修學院，課程類別極多，每年開辦的普通課程達一千五百多個，另有不少文憑、證書及函授課程。學員人數於一九八九至九零年度達至高峰，為五萬三千多人次。

張先生一直盡力工作，對學院之成就感到驕傲，並與有榮焉。他認為該院的酒店管理及日語課程很出色。他說：「我們率先在香港創辦酒店管理課程，十多年後才由理工學院新成立之酒店管理學系接辦。現在不少酒店執行董事及副總裁均是我們的畢業生。日語課程是在一九八七年起全力發展，雖然市場競爭激烈，而我們的學費又是最貴的，但我們每年都可收生約一千名，由此可見我們的課程水準。」

張先生在該院工作非常愉快，因為先後六位主任及署理主任均給他很大自主權，讓他盡展所長。其實，張先生仍未到達退休年齡，只不過他認為工作三十年已經足夠，而且他的努力已開花結果，遂自行引退。

旅遊與閱讀是張先生的兩大嗜好，也是他退休後的消閑之道。「要是日後發覺生活實在無聊，也許重作馮婦，擔任顧問。」○

圖二 范克廉樓教職員餐廳前面的樹叢也有靈芝群

圖三 體積破紀錄之靈芝

中大校園面積廣達一百三十四公頃，不少山坡為密林覆蓋。每年春夏兩季，林間樹下總滋生不少大型真菌，有木耳、銀耳、鮑魚菇、竹蓀、靈芝等等。筆者早年從事食用菌研究，對這些山珍有基本認識。眾多真菌中，當以靈芝最為特別。人們視靈芝為靈丹妙藥，近年在校園寬十分常見，車站路（圖一）、范克廉樓（圖二）、景禧園、工程學大樓、山村路等地都有。它們大多寄生在台灣相思樹的基部，初時為一團白色圓球體，數日後長出棕色菌柄，然後白色部分向橫發育成扁平菌傘，到成熟時全株赤褐色。可惜成熟靈芝不多見，因為它們往往在幼嫩期已被好奇的途人採去了！去年山村路一株枯死台灣相思樹腳下團團圍著一大堆靈芝，最大者直徑超過一呎（圖三），體積是歷年所見之冠。這種真菌有個特性，假如寄主不消失，它每年都會在原來位置出現。中國古老傳說有謂，某地發現靈芝是吉祥興旺的徵兆。筆者服務中大超過四分之一個世紀，也只是近幾年始發現靈芝大量湧現，不知道是否中大氣運的效應。無論如何，靈芝群的出現是校園特別景色，故此將之列入中大十景。○

校園十景（之五）

水方子

滿園山珍話靈芝

編者按：水方子六十年代末加入中大，由於工作需要，經常穿梭校園各處，對本校一草一木瞭如指掌。日子愈久，愈是覺得校園景色優美，惟感到不少美景未為同人所察覺，著實可惜；遂選取十處，分別撰文描述，更輔以照片及說明，希望透過《中大通訊》向讀者介紹。本刊多謝水方子的來稿，並已由第八十一期開始不定期逐一刊登。

訓練在職中學教師

本校香港教育研究所九月七日假崇基教堂舉行第五屆「在職中學教師進修課程」開學禮,今年共有一百五十名教師獲教育署推薦參加。

該課程旨在提高教學質素及激發教學新意念,以配合香港社會的轉變。主要內容包括教學法與策略及教育理論的最新發展,以及如何應用各種理論、方法和策略解決學校管理、學生輔導和課室管理等問題。
