Timetable and course description

When you select courses, please check that they are open to exchange and study-abroad students; that English is the medium of instruction – refer to the language column of the timetable; whether there are any requirements to study them; and whether you have any timetable clashes.

Students should submit their online course pre-selection between 28 Jul 2020 (09:00) - 30 Jul 2020 (12:00 noon) Hong Kong time. If you miss the deadline, you might miss out on certain classes because their quotas have already been filled.

Final decisions on course registration are subject to the approval of the respective academic departments and the availability of places.

The result of your online course pre-selection requests will be sent to you by email on 20 Aug 2020.

During the add/drop period in Sep 2020, students can try to add courses not included in the list above but available in the 1st term of 2020–21. They can also modify their registered courses during this period. Further instructions will be provided during the orientation week.

FAQs

1. The course I want to take is taught in both Cantonese/Putonghua and English. I am fluent in Cantonese/Putonghua. Can I and should I take the course? How do I register for it?

The course teacher might use Chinese reference materials or technical terms. These materials and terms might be difficult for you to understand even if you understand Cantonese or Putonghua, so you should contact the teacher at the beginning of the term and ask whether spoken fluency is sufficient to take the course.

2. How can I determine if a course is in the lower or upper division?

CUHK undergraduate courses are coded 1–4 and postgraduate courses 5–9. The first numeral in the undergraduate course codes indicates the level of study. Normally, courses beginning with 1 are in the lower division and those beginning with 3 and 4 in the upper division, while the classification of those beginning with 2 varies by department, and you'll need to check.

3. What can I do if I am unsure whether to take a class or not?

You can attend the class during the first week and then register for it during the add/drop period.

4. Before choosing a course I need to confirm if credits can be transferred, and to do that I need to send my home institution a copy of the course outline. How can I obtain one?

Usually teachers distribute the course outline in the first class. If you cannot wait till then, contact the teacher or the department directly. You can find a specimen course description at Timetable Course Description.

5. When can I register for courses for my second term at CUHK?

In November, when you will receive further instructions.
