

Ms. Bethany Chan (Assistant Lecturer)

If you would like to keep pace with the world, you have to equip yourself with good language skills. As English is a global language that allows us to enjoy ample opportunities for further development, we have no reason not to learn good English.

In addition to personal growth, you should have noticed that there are many forms of entertainment using English as the primary language, such as Hollywood movies, e-sports, and ball games. Therefore, English language is undeniably useful and practical in our daily life.

Let me give you the last tip --- LLEC provides extra language support outside the classroom for our full-time students, and you can obtain personal advice and assistance about English learning from the enthusiastic teachers here in CUSCS. Please feel free to make a reservation by e-mail. See you around!
