

- With Definition 10.26, the mutual information is defined when one r.v. is general and the other is continuous.
- In Ch. 2, the mutual information is defined when both r.v.'s are discrete.
- Thus the mutual information is defined when each of the r.v.'s is either discrete or continuous.