

Remarks

1. The volume of the typical set is approximately equal to  $2^{nh(X)}$  when  $n$  is large.
2. The fact that  $h(X)$  can be negative does not incur any difficulty because  $2^{nh(X)}$  is always positive.
3. If the differential entropy is large, then the volume of the typical set is large.