

1. For a fixed value of x , $\kappa(x)$ is the “cost” for transmitting x .

2. For example, if $\kappa(x) = x^2$, then $\kappa(x)$ is the energy, and P is the power.