The Professional Doctorate in Practical Theology is offered by Anglia Ruskin University (UK), with the Cambridge Theological Federation (here after CTF), the University of Birmingham, the University of Chester, the University of Glasgow, and the University of Manchester. CTF is a federation composed of 11 units, including such as Westcott House and Ridley Hall of Anglican Church with ecumenical & evangelical traditions, Wesley House of Methodist Church and Westminster College of United Reformed Church, and a Centre for Jewish-Christian and Jewish-Muslim Relations, and a Centre for Mission Studies. The Professional Doctorate in Practical Theology is a practice-based research degree particularly designed to be taken on a part-time basis.

The Divinity School of Chung Chi College, CUHK is CTF's local partner in offering this programme.

Entry requirements

Applicants need to hold a Bachelor's degree and a Master's degree in theology (M.Div. or B.D.) or related subject, plus appropriate professional accreditation or experience.
