Expertise in Social Work Practice

I am an experienced social work practitioner in social work and health care. My specialty is to work with children and families with crisis of child abuses, parenting difficulties, developmental struggles, rare diseases as well as mental problems.

My expertise is also on working with people having acute, chronic and terminal illnesses. My key strengths are in social work palliative care for cancer and non-cancer patients, end of life care, advanced care planning and so on. Health-care decision-making dilemma, chronic disease management and patient support group service are also at my interests.

Being a clinical social work practitioner, the priority is placed on working with families and children on health issues, mental health challenges, substance abuses, emotional and behavioral problems with family-based intervention and family therapy.
