

The New Emperor Of The Animals

By Rainbow Cheung

Once upon a time, there was a planet called Amazing World in the space. Only two countries existed in Amazing World: Animals and Amazing. Animals was the poorer country.

The first Emperor in Animals

One day, Animals had a test --- "Emperor general election ". It was used for choosing the best Emperor, and it would test fighting and writing. It would be held in December.

The second Emperor in Animals

Before the testing day, many animals were preparing for their tests. They were so busy. But some bad people wanted to destroy the test and be the general election's winner...

In a garden, two handsome dogs were murmuring, "Today, three hundred animals died. They were killed by the same human. He used a knife and killed them!"

"But why did he kill animals?" said Dickson the dog which was shorter than Ben.

"Don't think too much. The bad guy is not simple for his identity, so we have to stop him quietly and quickly," said the most handsome and strong dog, Ben.

Ben and Dickson were brave and fit. The most important thing was they were powerful and they are the Emperor's sons.

Who will win the test and be the new emperor of Animals?

Two days later, Dickson and Ben found the bad man called Yan.

"Don't get away, Yan!" Dickson yelled. They chased after Yan and they ran so fast that they caught Yan.

Sadly, Yan fought very well. He stabbed Dickson with a knife. Dickson didn't dodge in time so he was injured. Ben got angry. He shouted at Yan and fought with Yan.

The new planet --- Earth

On the first of the December, Ben was the new Emperor because all animals know about his good deed so they loved and respected Ben. Ben was a wise Emperor and ruled his country very well. He ruled it from the poorest country to the richest country in Amazing World. He was a good Emperor until Amazing World blew up. After that, Amazing World changed into the new planet called the Earth.
