Hello! My name is Millie, and I am from somewhere from my creator's world. There was a galaxy of magic and abnormals, but there were mortals of course. 80% of the population are abnormals. In this story, I will talk about my teenage life. As you know, my name is Millie, I am 16 years old. I have a twin sister, Becky. She is very nice! We study together in Magic Academy, and today is our first day! I have heard a lot about this school. Oh and, did I mention that we are witches? Don't worry, we are nice ones. More like humans with magic. Some of us are hybrids too. I am a wolf mixed with a dark angel. Becky is the same, but she's a light angel.

Anyways, today is my first day at the Academy, and I'm so excited! As soon as we arrived, I rushed in to find my locker, putting my heavy bag in there. Becky came when I closed my Locker door, laughing. Later, we explored the place with excitement. This Academy is so big! We headed to class after exploring this humongous place. We had been introduced by our teacher in the first lesson, and we got to know our new classmates. We had lots of fun during class. There was art, combat, flying, potions, and even transformation classes! My transformation was a rare guardian. I also learned how to teleport over time, and I met some new friends. They were Sophie, Jessie and Vanessa. The teacher grouped me, Becky, Vanessa, Jessie and Fredrick into a team, and did the same to our other classmates.

We were sad about Sophie not being in our team. Fredrick is a little of a jerk, but I can handle him.

Months passed by, and we became closer. I got high scores and became more powerful and strong. We were having a great time! I was 17 years old. But I couldn't believe this sudden news..... It was terrible! We had to go in this unexpected war, with the mortals. We abnormals hate them, for they had experimented on us, I didn't think they would attack us out of nowhere! They wanted power for themselves. They were selfish. They think that we are monsters! We needed to fight, for our lives. The war went on for weeks...months... We had found out that the king had brainwashed them. He was once a immortal, but hated us for some reason. He had the power to brainwash anyone.

This war felt like forever, and we were all very tired. But! In the end, we won! We had a few months of holiday to rest from the great war.

In those months, we went to Dreamy Sights, a famous vacation resort with Beck, Sophie, Vanny and Jess. That place was beautiful! There were stars, flowers, clouds.....everywhere, we would see people admiring the sky, playing in the sea, resting upon themselves. We found a perfect spot for our picnic, then we started eating. We all went to sleep at our resort later on, and I found out that my parents live there! It was such a happy sight! I slept at their house for a little reunion. The house was so pretty and shiny! I loved their big house.

When we got back from vacation, what we saw outside our school, monsters and cyborgs. After a war with mortals, I think I can't handle it anymore! We raced into Magic Academy, with panicking and fearful faces. Then I remembered what my mum said, " be brave, have courage, and save others. Our kind is made to save and fight." So I gathered all of my courage, put on my war suit and rushed to fight the monstrosities. Not everything in this world is rainbows and unicorns, Jessie died in that attack..... We continued to fight, all day in the Academy's fields. These intruders are very strong tho, a lot of us got hurt. After days and days full of challenging hours, finally we could rest. I slept for half a day, ate five meals and trained for what seemed like forever.

From stories I have read, ghosts really are watching and protecting us wherever we are, whenever we need help and whatever we need help with. I believe that Jessie and many other souls watching us are trying to hold back the attackers too. Some say that they could be revived if they are too young, and I learned a spell for that. It took a long time to try, but in the end, it was all worth it! Jessie has been revived along with her friends. The atmosphere immediately turned bright after word spread. Tears of joy sprung out of our eyes as we knew this news. We fought and fought and fought..... Until they were all dismantled and destroyed. We were free once again!

The teacher gave my team an extra lesson. It was a hero training class, and the teacher invited us because she thought that we were the strongest team she has ever taught. We practiced and trained, we became strong enough to become hero's for our beloved Academy. It was great! But also tiring. Protecting citizens and going places everywhere was our job, and we had different hobbies. I liked crafting, Becky liked cooking, Vanny liked skating, Jessie liked singing, and Fredrick liked martial arts.

We lived our happy little lives being hero's, hanging out with each other, practicing our hobbies, and spending our time happier than ever.

Introduction

As you all knew from the first season, there was Millie and her friends, at their teenage. But this season is about their children and some friends.

I am Maya, the daughter of Millie. We were living a happy live. That is, until today.

So today, me and my friends, Berry (Becky's daughter), Jacky (Sopie's son), Jeanie (Jessie's daughter), Freddie (Fredrick's son), and Vicky (Vanessa's daughter) went for a walk in the park, as usual. I saw a note flying in the air, then landing on my head. I picked it from my hair and opened it, it went like this:

Dear Maya,

I have sent this note to inform you about your parents. They have been kidnapped by someone, but I can only tell you that they are on Wayle Island. I am truly sorry.

Good luck,

from Caramel (your long lost sister)

I have never been so supersized and sad ever before! I told my friends and we quickly ran back home. It was true! My parents were gone! But I still couldn't believe that I had a sister. We researched Wayle Island and it turned out to be a village. But why would someone take my family? Then I thought, was it Caramel who did it? My head began to fill with questions. Meanwhile, my friends had planned out a map to go to Wayle Island. We also received another note a day after, saying that we need to find a person with black hair and eyes. She often wears a grey belt and a white headband.

Days went by, we slept and ate the food we brought. Thank heavens we brought food, or else we could have starved to death! A long time passed before we landed on Wayle Island. The people there wore formal clothes, females with dresses and long hair, males with short hair and trousers. I felt quite rude at that moment, because I was wearing shorts and I'm a girl. No femboys or tomboys were there, and the village was very much complete, farms and houses stood still on the island, and we saw a palace not far away. The villagers seemed nice, so we decided to talk to one of them.

Judging from the apprentice, I could tell that she was quite mysterious. We didn't know if it was a trap or not, so we practiced our skills before we went to Wayle. Weeks later, we finally started our journey to the Island. Berry made a cloud and we climbed on. As we flew across the blue sky, we saw birds, clouds, buildings, all around our city. Hours passed hours, we made our way to a forest, which we saw burning. So Berry made the cloud we were sitting on rain. We flew away from the forest with ashes everywhere, and headed our way to Wayle Island once more.

We asked the person if they saw a girl with black hair, eyes and a grey belt with a white headband. She looked terrified and started trembling. I began to feel the suspiciousness coming from the black girl, but then the poor girl replied, “she is a villain! I-if yo-ou see her, p-plea-se bring her to t-the queen!” Then she ran away immediately. The queen? Me and my friends started a conversation about what we should do. Later on a man came up to us and said, “who are you people? Why aren’t you wearing traditional clothes? And are you v-villains.....?” We responded that we came looking for a girl with black hair, eyes and wears a grey belt and a white headband. He ran away too, but this time heading to the palace. I assumed that that is where the queen the girl told us about lives.

Some guards caught us a few minutes later and injected us with something. Me and my friends found ourselves in front of the queen, with a puffy red dress and a big golden crown. She asked us questions and we answered. But the weird thing is, I didn't even move my body. I tried hard and finally cried, "WHO ARE YOU AND WHERE ARE WE?" Even tho I knew, I still wanted to surprise the queen. She put up a needle and shot it up in me. I had never, ever been so scared in life. Then I felt weak again, and had no control over my body. I managed to stop the time and broke my friends and I free. I suddenly realized that we had been answering the queen's stupid questions and probably our privacy had been exposed. I scanned the palace and noticed hundreds and thousands of guards standing still like statues.

I quickly stopped my besties and activated my time stop again. We crawled through the vents and went to the prisoner's realm. There Freddie and Vicky spotted my family, and even theirs. Jeanie's parents were there too, and I saw someone that looked like me very much in a chamber, separated from the others. The thought of the other girl being Caramel popped up in my head as we explored. It was time to be brave again and save our families. Even tho I had no stamina left, I could still use my death eye, which kills people in a second when a look at them with my left eye. I always kept it patched up, for I didn't want to be bullied again. Some people thought my left eye was a curse, but mother and father always cheered me up.

The guards came patrolling and saw us above, and they ran away like a moving Terracotta Army. I scented that Caramel had heard the guard's footsteps so I look down in distance. She was doing some spell and eventually broke the bars. As I was watching her escape, she suddenly disappeared from my sight, and a moment later she was behind us! Freddie froze her thinking she was one of the guards but realized that she looked like my clone. "Stop your ice, she's my sister." He unfroze and heated up her and apologized. "I'm finally meeting you little sissy!" "But why didn't I ever see you before?" Then she explained that she went on a trip here before I was born but got caught as her power was above 80%. I was supersized! A village with such a cruel rule?

The people who had more than 80% of power had to either be a high security guard or be excavated, or be a prisoner in the palace. Why would they do that? The queen acted nice but was secretly very hungry for power. When abnormals pass away, their power transfers to their children. If they don't have kids, their power will be transferred to a relative or to their killer. Prisoners there will be forced to give power to their 'beloved queen'. We managed to escape all the traps and the palace, then went to find the girl with black hair and eyes as planned. As we were walking through an ally way, we saw males with long hair, females with short hair and no dresses. It was quite strange, since there was a rule Caramel told us about that people here must wear traditional clothing.

As we went through the ally, we accidentally went to an abandoned place where we found the black girl. She took us to her secret base, and in the underground base there were other people who had more than 80% power too. I had 998%, berry had 986%, Jeanie had 847%, Freddie had 936% and Vicky had 893% of power. The black girl's name was Connie, and she was the leader of the underground group called the 'Moonrise Rebellion' But why moonrise? It represented the start of good and the end of cruelty. As the queen chose sunrise, they chose moonrise. The group members were: Connie (true power of explosions), Michal (true power of lie detector), Chris (true power of nature boom), Carrie (true power of illusions), Virgil (true power of intense survival, or invincibility), William (true power of technology), and Xumia (true power of acid rain).

A true power is a power you were born with, and not the ones that you learned. Learned powers were called 'side powers', and they are learned from schools or learned overtime and trying, like teleportation, invisibility, flying, freezing and much more. My true power was my left eye (death eye) and pocket war (summon things needed in a war like weapons and med kits), Berry's was water powers (summon clouds, make water etc etc), Jeanie's true power was healing, Freddie's was wolf's scent (strong scents), Vicky's was demons (she can summon demons). I felt a strong aura when I entered the medical room, and there was a girl lying on the bed, motionlessly. Her name was Starrie, and she was the most powerful one in the group.

She had been experimented by mortals but escaped. She was overpowered, with 9987% of power even when the queen and humans took 5000% of her powers. I could feel her pain. If we have too much abilities, we would end up suffering and having a weak body. Her powers were to enter dreams of other people, Create portals and to take or give powers to anyone. Jeanie healed her, and we hung out in the base. Weeks later, we finished planning out our plan to save our parents and to bring freedom to Wayle Island. We held up a secret meeting with our supporters from the village and told our plan to invade the palace. Meanwhile, the queen and her team were looking for us, wanting our precious powers. I could tell she was very angry and panicked, for if she will let us escape and never come back again.

We first bought up a deal to the queen, if she let us go we will not hurt anyone. But she rejected, of course. So my team and I went back to our escape point and went to the forest. We sent war invitations to some trusted guards and a lot a civilians. One of the guards, Kuroe had a teleportation power and we asked him to bring us back to our city. We found many students from our school and bought ourselves back to Wayle island with them. Once all invitations were replied, we went back to the palace and attacked. Our plan was simple: we needed to kill the queen and her allies. A long war was going on, but I don't want to say details. All I can say is that we won.
