

THE CHINESE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Social Responsibility and Sustainable Development Office

Energy Policy

The University seeks to improve continuously the energy performance on campus and to provide a congenial environment for teaching, learning and scholastic activities. Whilst the University is committed to ensuring that all activities run by the University are conducted in an energy-conservation manner,

- (a) the University, as a socially responsible institution, endeavours to improve energy and operation efficiency and minimize consumption whilst satisfying the University's needs; and
- (b) the University, as a higher education institution, will raise the energy conservation awareness among staff and students and set the University as a model in energy conservation education and management.

First issued in 2003