

Raz Lai

Hi everyone! How are you? This is Raz — one of the English advisers at LLEC. I am an energetic educator, who desires to motivate you to learn English.

Literature and linguistics come to my mind while thinking about English. By delving into both streams, I had an opportunity to explore diverse cultures in this world.

Not only do I like listening to songs, but I am also fond of films, especially superhero's. These are my best tools to learn English. During the journey of learning English, never look down on yourself as I truly believe that confidence is the key to improving language skills.

When thinking about English, what come(s) to your mind? I look forward to your answers.
