Dr Aneez currently practices in Tan Tock Seng Hospital as a surgeon specializing in Thoracic surgery. Dr Aneez was recognized as the first among the ASEAN cohort to receive a Level III Certificate Specialist training in Robotic Thoracic Surgery from EACTS, receiving hospital referrals from other countries such as Malaysia, Thailand, Philippines and U.A.E.

Dr Aneez has gained profound expertise and knowledge in minimally invasive thoracic surgery that led to his numerous invitations to speak at conferences and workshops in the region. Dr Aneez is also a board member on the newly formed ASEAN VATS Study Group, which aims to improve and advance the approach of VATS in ASEAN.

Dr Aneez has significantly contributed to past research efforts that led to publications in renowned journals, the most recent one published by "CELL" in January 2012. He is presently a member of the Editorial Review board of the SMJ. His current projects include, being a co-PI in the new genomics study for NSCLC in Singapore, in collaboration with NCC and NUS.
