1. 簡介 Brief Description

The course examines portrayals of China in missionary publications beginning with writings connected to the early Jesuits, as well as 19th-20th-century Protestants, highlighting salient examples of how the 'missionary gaze' and other western lenses captured and recast key moments in Chinese history & life.

2. 課程概述 COURSE DESCRIPTION

In considering missionaries' introductions to China, their "memorials" as introduced by Alexander Wylie for the early Protestant era or DuHalde in the case of early Qing Jesuits, looking at missionary periodicals in the late Qing and Republican eras, as well as examining interpretations of the Chinese tradition, history, and language by a small but significant cohort of missionary sinologists that the missionary enterprise produced, this course will trace the changes in Western portrayals of China by writers who mostly went to China to "change" it in one way or another and ended up themselves being changed by their diverse experiences and contemplations of the cultural, social, and political realities of the Chinese contexts they encountered – and in which several spent the better part of their lives.

Each lecture will capture one instance of what China historian Jonathan Spence called "sightings" of China by Europeans and Americans (see The Chan's Great Continent) – whether during the so-called "Catholic Century," the 19th-century missionary enterprise, or when early 20th-century missionaries sought to shift their approaches to social gospel initiatives, highlighting the transformative potential of Christian ethics in education and public welfare whilst portraying, for home audiences, the material needs of a war-torn nation and the expediency of courting this East Asian ally seeking modernization.

We will consider different critical perspectives and approaches as we study these "sightings"; students will complete their coursework by submitting an academic research paper at the end of the term.

3. 課程學習目標 COURSE OBJECTIVES (LEARNING OUTCOMES)

- (1) Students will be acquainted with different genres of missionary writings that introduce the perspectives of Roman Catholic, mainstream Protestant and other Protestant missionaries.
- (2) We will read secondary sources on the writings and portrayals of China written and popularized by western missionaries as well as some of their children and discuss what effects these had on Western perceptions of China and the missionary enterprise in general.
- (3) Different critical approaches are applied to and within the readings under (1) & (2), and students will practice applying scholarly methodologies in their own research. Each lecture, moreover, focuses on one particular genre of foreign writing on China in different eras, and students will gain a grasp of the various ways in which "China" has been rendered using "non-Chinese" interpretive frames. The notions of China, insider (emic) and outsider (etic) –ness will also be problematized.

5. COURSE COMPONENTS

每個課程將包括兩節講座和一節討論(指導)並定期邀請學生參加課堂討論。 Each course session will consist of two parts lecture and one part discussion (tutorial). Students are invited to participate in class discussions on a regular basis.

作業列在下面的時間表中,且必須在截止日期的前後 24 小時之內提交並上傳到 Blackboard (參 見下文的「8. 電子學習平臺:提交作業」和「6. 評估方案」)。 Assignments are listed in the schedule below and must be submitted +/-24 hours within the due date and uploaded to Blackboard (confer "8. E-LEARNING PLATFORM: SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS" and "6. ASSESSMENT SCHEME" below).

6. ASSESSMENT SCHEME

A. Overview

- 1. Book review: 1,250 English words/2,000 中文
- 2. Proposal Presentation: Outline & 5-slide PPT
- 3. Final Paper: 4,000 English words/6,500 中文
- B. Assignment Specifics
- Book review (ca. 1,250 English words/2,000 中文) Possible works to review (please choose one of the following):
 - 1) Hollinger David A. Protestants Abroad: How Missionaries Tried to Change the World but Changed America. Princeton: Princeton UP, 2017.
 - 2) Lian Xi, The Conversion of Missionaries: Liberalism in American Protestant Missions in China, 1907-1932. University Park, Pa.: Pennsylvania State UP, 1997.
 - 3) Spence, Jonathan D. The Chan's Great Continent: China in Western Minds. New York: Norton, 1998. (This title is also available in Chinese translation《大汗之国:西方眼中的中国》)

2. Proposal Presentation: Outline & 5-slide PPT

Prepare a short presentation on the topic of your final paper. Supply a handout with your central argument (thesis), subsidiary points or questions, and a working bibliography of 5-8 sources.

The proposal outline should contain the following:

- 1. Statement of interest in the topic (why do I want to know more about this?)
- 2. Aim of the research or central research question (what major question am I addressing?)
- 3. Paper outline with heading/title and sub-headings (a topic and a title are not the same)
- 4. List of initial sources/working bibliography (the main work or works you are consulting)
- 5. Expected difficulties (perhaps in finding more sources or how to narrow down the topic)

3. Final Paper (50%).

Grading of the final paper

The final paper will be graded on the following points:

- > 50% Research, Substance, Coherence, Relevance, and Independent Critical Thought
- 30% Structure and Organization (presentation of argument, structure, logic)
- > 20% Style and Language (your language should be clear, concise, polished)

20% of final grade 30% of final grade 50% of final grade 100%

- Consistency and accuracy in bibliographic entries and footnotes (follow a style guide, such as the Chicago Manual of Style: https://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/home.html or 《中 國文哲研究集刊》撰稿格式: https://www.litphil.sinica.edu.tw/public/6-5-format.pdf for papers written in Chinese)
- Presentation (formatting, including 'front matter,' name, student ID, course title, date)
- Clarity of language, accuracy and precision (avoid vague generalization), succinctness

C. Submitting Your Work

- a. Upload your assignment to BLACKBOARD or email it to the instructor. Only Word-format is accepted. PDF is regarded as non-submission. Clearly indicate your name, the date, and the course name and number on your submission. The paper must contain a title (perhaps with a subtitle), introduction & conclusion, and bibliography.
- b. At the same time also upload a soft copy of the completed assignment to the plagiarism detection engine VeriGuide, at the URL: https://veriguide2.cse.cuhk.edu.hk/cuhk/
- c. The system will issue a receipt that also contains a declaration of honesty, which is the same as that in http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/p10.htm. The declaration should be uploaded in PDF to BLACKBOARD or emailed to the instructor.

12. GENERAL GRADING POLICY

The OVERALL grading follows the general grading policy of the CUHK outlined below (in short form):

Grade A / Excellent:	Outstanding performance on ALL learning outcomes. Demonstrates the ability to synthesize and apply the principles or skills learned in the course in a manner that would surpass the normal expectations at this level and typical of standards that may be common at higher levels of study.
Grade A- / Very Good	: Generally outstanding performance on all or almost all learning outcomes. Demonstrates the ability to synthesize and apply the principles or skills learned in the course in a manner that would fully fulfill the normal expectations at this level and occasionally reaches standards that may be common at higher levels of study.
Grade B / Good:	Substantial performance on all learning outcomes, OR high performance on some learning outcomes which compensates for slightly less satisfactory performance on others, resulting in overall substantial performance. Demonstrates the ability to apply the principles or skills learned in the course in a comprehensive manner that would sufficiently fulfill the normal expectations at this level.
Grade C / Fair:	Satisfactory performance on the majority of learning outcomes. Demonstrates the ability to partially apply the principles or skills learned in the course in a manner that would meet the basic requirement at this level.
Grade D / Pass:	Barely satisfactory performance on a number of learning outcomes. Addresses the task inadequately by meeting the basic requirement at this level only in some areas while responding minimally with possibly tangential content in others.
Grade F / Failure:	Unsatisfactory performance on a number of learning outcomes, OR failure to meet specified assessment requirements. Fails to address the task and likely does not understand what the task requires. In other words, the work completely misses the point.
