Message from the Master

This inaugural Newsletter of the College communicates to members and friends of the College significant milestones reached in the past few months, as the College gears up for the arrival of students in about one year's time.

The most significant event is the formal establishment of the Assembly of Fellows, with the inaugural meeting held on 29 April 2011 attended by almost all teachers of the College. The Assembly was able to formalize much of the work already undertaken by the Preparatory Assembly up to that point, and in particular to form a number of Committees to take charge of the various tasks going forward.

The College has also finalized its location, moving to a site where the flat terrain will help to contain the construction cost. Work on the site will soon commence.

Much work has already been done; much work lies ahead. We are all excited by the prospect of welcoming the first cohort of students in September 2012 — in a little over a year's time. We thank all those who have given us help and support, and look forward to working with our friends in achieving our vision.

Kenneth Young

The First Meeting of the Assembly of Fellows

At exactly 4 pm on April 29, Professor Kenneth Young, Pro-Vice Chancellor and college master, convened the First Meeting of the Assembly of Fellows of CW Chu College. This formal gathering held around conference tables in the stately and high-tech Mong Man Wai 325 represents an important step in the development of the new college. Present around the table were the Founding Fellows – Professor Thomas Au, Professor Cecilia Chun, Professor Stephen Hall, Professor Jette Hansen Edwards, Professor Anthony Ho, Professor Vernon Hsu, Professor Jan Kiely, Professor Suk Ying Wong, Professor Kenneth Young.

In his opening remarks, Professor Young made a point of recognizing the college staff, Ms Melody Lee (Acting Secretary), Ms Alice Tang and Mr Sunny Cheng, and welcoming the specially invited faculty observers, who are already or will soon be affiliated with the College. These observers included Professor Angus Burnett, Professor Sek Ying Chair, Professor Evelyn Chan, Professor Mark Hsiao, Professor Chi Fai Lo, Professor Winnie Tsui and Dr Tsz Yeung Wong.

The meeting primarily approved and endorsed the months of preparatory work for establishing the college undertaken by Preparatory Assembly. More specifically, the Assembly of Fellows formally supported the adoption of the College's Constitution, Vision Statement, Standing Orders of the Assembly of Fellows, the College General Education Programme, the Committees under the Assembly of Fellows, and other ancillary preparatory decisions.

The gathered Fellows next enjoyed a vivid slide presentation update on the design and construction of the college buildings at the new site, much of which is currently the Shaw College tennis courts. This was followed by a briefing by Professor Young himself on the college budget and finances. Professor Hansen Edwards, in her capacity as chair of the College Life Committee, delivered the third and last substantial report regarding the committee's first set of proposals relating to college life activities and planning. Approaches to communal dining and High Table Dinners were at the forefront of this discussion.

To celebrate the inauguration of the Assembly of Fellows and welcome all the newly joined members of CW Chu College, an inaugural dinner was hosted by the College on Friday, 29 April 2011 at the Wine Lab of the School of Hotel and Tourism Management at Cheng Yu Tung Building.
