

Contents

Acknowledgements / vii

Introduction Wai-ye Li / ix

The Making of Keywords

- 1 How to Name or Not to Name: That Is the Question
in Early Chinese Philosophy / 3
Carine Defoort
- 2 Chinese he 和 in Many Keys, Harmonized in Europe / 37
Joachim Gentz
- 3 From “Scribe” to “History”: The Keyword shi 史 / 85
Stephen Durrant

Socio-political Keywords

- 4 What’s in a Slogan? The Political Rationale and the Economic Debates behind “Enrich the State” (fuguo 富國)
in Early China / 123
Romain Graziani
- 5 “To Die for the Sanctity of the Name”: Name (ming 名) as Prime Mover of Political Action in Early China / 169
Yuri Pines

Virtue Keywords

- 6 Embodied Virtue: How Was Loyalty Edited and Performed in Late Imperial China? / 219
Chiung-yun Evelyn Liu
- 7 Filial Piety as an Emotion in Late Imperial China / 269
Maram Epstein

Keywords of the Self

- 8 Before the Emergence of Desire / 317
Andrew Plaks
- 9 Looking for the True Self / 335
Wai-ye Li

Afterword

- Philological Reflections on Chinese Conceptual History:
Introducing Thesaurus Linguae Sericae / 381
Christoph Harbsmeier

Index / 405