

Prof Kenneth Young
College Master

All teachers in the College join me in welcoming you to CW Chu College. We have the vision of an intimate, international, intellectual and involved community of students and teachers. We invite you to be a part of this community and, as one of its earliest members, to help establish its character and chart its future.

As the College Dean of Students and Warden, I am devoted to developing and sustaining an experiential environment that promises to be exciting, fulfilling and rewarding. Staff members in the College Office and I stand ready to assist you in whatever way we can to help you realize your aspirations and potential as you pursue your educational journey here with us at CW Chu College. As members of the CWC community, you will find that the months and years that lie ahead will be among the most memorable and rewarding of your lives.

Prof Wong Suk Ying
College Dean of Students and Warden

In CW Chu College, you will build life-long relationships with interesting, inspiring, and independent individuals. Please come 'in'.

international

The College has a unique international character. Including incoming exchange students, nearly 40% of our students are expected to hail from outside Hong Kong. College Fellows and teaching members alike come from a diversity of backgrounds, affording students an opportunity to experience multicultural perspectives while gaining a global outlook.

CW Chu College's small size, full residence and communal dining constitute essential ingredients for building and fostering an intimate, interactive, congenial and caring community of students and academic staff. The College admits no more than 75 students each year, who go on to develop relationships and build enduring bonds.

Campus and College Life

The College is situated at Campus Circuit North, close to a cluster of new developments (Area 39) that will include postgraduate research and hostel facilities. The College buildings blend in with the lush, green surroundings. In addition to undergraduate living quarters, the buildings also house dining and amenity facilities for the entire College membership, with purpose-built space for tutorials, seminars and other collegiate activities.

intellectual

The community of scholars will approach learning and life in an intellectual way, in a spirit of curiosity and enquiry.

Knowledge will be treasured not only for its own sake, but as the basis for moral action. Members of the College will be engaged and involved with the wider community in a spirit of generosity towards others, through service and other contributions.
