Report of the Master
November 2013

FOREWORD

This is the third Report of the Master, following the first issue published just before the Stone Laying Ceremony for the College premises in November 2011, and the second issue in November 2012 shortly after the founding students were admitted.

This Report surveys what has happened in the academic year 2012–13, especially the period after the last issue, and also presents information about the second cohort just enrolled. There is much to be pleased about, in particular what our founding students have achieved in just one year — in coming together as a vibrant and cohesive group, in having moved in a very mature way towards the establishment of a Student Union and having already formed the first Student Honour Code Committee, and in having taken part in and benefited from a range of educational activities. In such a small community, I have had the pleasure of getting to know the students extremely well, in person, and to witness their growth and change in the short span of time.

This Report also looks forward to another milestone: moving into the College premises in December. The design of the building is pleasing, but more important are the enhanced opportunities for College activities and programmes to be offered to our students when the facilities are available.

As College Master I often have to consider and explain what Colleges are about. Perhaps a good description is that given by Harry Lewis in another context:

[T]he fundamental job of undergraduate education is to turn 18 and 19 year-olds into 21 and 22 year-olds, to help them grow up, to learn who they are, to search for a larger purpose for their lives, and to leave college as better human beings.

Harry Lewis, Excellence without a Soul (2006)

He was, of course, lamenting what his own university (sometimes said to be the ‘best’ in the world) had signally failed to do, but the remarks serve equally well as a rallying call for what a College in CUHK ought to be doing.

As I prepare this Report, I am also struck by the comment of one of our students in reflecting on the summer service project: ‘to make a small change for this world’ 「為這個世界帶來小小的改變」。 Is this remark not an alternate formulation, suitably humble, to describe what a College should be doing? And may we not be permitted to view this remark with some satisfaction: if one of our 19-year-old students is given to these thoughts, have we not already made a small difference?

It is with these considerations in mind — even if they are not always articulated in so many words — that my colleagues and I have embarked on our tasks and designed the programmes and activities, always placing the intended educational and transformational outcomes topmost in mind. This shared belief has allowed us to deploy our limited resources with focus and with effect.

We in the College are grateful to many parties in the University and in the community who find resonance with our educational mission and who have given their support in numerous ways. We look forward to their continuing guidance and counsel.

Kenneth Young, Master

The Assembly of Fellows has been busy, with formal meetings approximately every other month, to exchange views and make all the necessary decisions for the College. The 10th to 15th Meetings of the Assembly of Fellows were held on the following dates: 14 December 2012, 22 February 2013, 18 April 2013, 14 June 2013, 9 August 2013 and 18 October 2013.

COMMITTEES UNDER THE ASSEMBLY OF FELLOWS

The Assembly of Fellows has established a number of Committees to handle different tasks. As appropriate to a small College, an informal approach has been adopted: colleagues are given the opportunity to volunteer for any number of committees, and business is typically transacted with the minimum of paperwork. The one exception is the Student Discipline Committee, which because of its authority is constituted with a preset size and through appointment by the Assembly of Fellows.

There has been only one minor change in the committee structure since the last Report: the Mentorship, Internship and Service Committee has been split into two; Professor Wong Suk Ying continues to chair the Mentorship and Internship Committee, whereas Professor Chair Sek Ying has taken up the chair of the Service Committee. With Professor Jette Hansen Edwards being on sabbatical, Professor Cecilia Chun has taken over as chair of the College Life Committee. Other changes (mostly additions) to membership have occurred because of staff movements.

The membership of the Assembly Committees (as of November 2013) is as follows (chairs marked by *):

OUR STUDENTS

MESSAGE FROM PROFESSOR WONG SUK YING, DEAN OF STUDENTS

CW Chu College admitted its second cohort of students in August 2013: students studying for a degree as well as incoming exchange students. Students from both Hong Kong and around the world arrived with every imaginable goal and talent, united in their quest for an excellent learning and living experience. It is with this in mind that we direct our mission and effort.

We take pride in what our students have accomplished, marking significant advances for the College as a whole. The most noteworthy is the College Student Union Constitution, which lays a foundation for the first election of the College Student Union in November this year. This is a signal achievement by the Provisional Student Union established in October 2012. Our College encourages student responsibility, and all students pledge to abide by the Honour Code. A Student Honour Code Committee was successfully elected in April 2013. This summer, the baton was passed to the founding students to organize the O' Camp, which has turned out to be both enjoyable and educational.

Many of these accomplishments of our students are here recorded.

THE FIRST TWO COHORTS OF STUDENTS

According to University policy, students were recruited through three channels: local students mostly through the Joint University Programmes Admissions System (JUPAS), students admitted from the Mainland through the gaokao 高考 system, and students admitted with international qualifications (e.g., GCE, IB, SAT); the last also includes some students from the Mainland who had obtained these qualifications. The total number in the first two cohorts of students is 148. The distribution is as follows:

Channel of Admission	First Cohort of Students	Second Cohort of Students
Local	49	52
Mainland gaokao	15	15
International	11	6
Gender
Male	37	37
Female	38	36
Faculty# / Unit
Arts	8	5
Business Administration*	22	12
Education	1	2
Engineering	9	7
Law	2	2
Medicine	8	19
Science	11	10
Social Science	13	15
Centre for China Studies	1	1
Total	75	73

Small changes in the Faculty distribution of the first cohort compared to the last Report, on account of a few cases of changes in Major at the end of Year 1

*Including BSc in Global Economics & Finance and BSc in Quantitative Finance & Risk Management Science

OUR STUDENTS

INCOMING EXCHANGE STUDENTS

In Term 1 of the academic year 2013–14, CW Chu College received a total of 26 incoming exchange students (12 female and 14 male) from various origins, including Australia, Austria, Canada, China, Japan, Singapore, South Korea, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, The Netherlands, UK and USA. Four of them will stay at the College for the entire academic year.

To welcome these students, an informal reception was arranged on 29 August 2013. Apart from the College Master and Dean of Students, members of the External Links and Exchange Committee and College Advisors for incoming exchange students attended the gathering to greet these new comers. They had a cordial exchange.

Incoming exchange students live together with College students in I-House Block 3. Roommates are assigned to promote mixing. Exchange students also join College communal dinners. These arrangements enable students to come into contact with other cultures and learn to get along with those from other places.

PROVISIONAL STUDENT UNION

The Provisional Student Union (PSU) was formed in October 2012, through a process of direct election with wide participation (see last Report). Since then, the PSU has helped to organize many activities, and has been instrumental in enhancing communication between students and teachers. One of its most important achievements is to have drafted the Constitution of the Student Union, which was overwhelmingly supported by the student body, and later passed by the Assembly of Fellows of the College and then by the University Council. The PSU will be dissolved when the first Representative Council and the Executive Council of the Student Union assume office in February 2014.

STUDENT UNION

Constitution

As is the custom in CUHK, the students of the College will come together and form a self-governing Student Union. As an important step towards that process, it was necessary to formulate and approve a Constitution for the Student Union, and only with a proper Constitution in place would it be possible to conduct elections.

The task of gathering views and drafting the Constitution falls on the Provisional Student Union (PSU), itself elected by the entire student body in October 2012 (see last Report). The PSU first produced the main heads of the Constitution, which were approved by the student body on 6 December 2012. The full draft of Constitution was approved by the student body on 17 April 2013, and then by the Assembly of Fellows on 18 April 2013. Final textual and typographical amendments were approved through Circular votes by the student body and by the Assembly of Fellows, both on 3 May 2013.

The Constitution was endorsed by the Administration and Planning Committee (AAPC) of the University at its 6th (2013) meeting on 14 May 2013, and approved by the University Council at its 3rd (2013) meeting on 18 June 2013. The Constitution came into force on 19 June 2013.

OUR STUDENTS

STUDENT HONOUR CODE

CW Chu College trusts students and expects much from them. Instead of an administration-centred student discipline system, the College encourages character formation, personal responsibility, honesty, mutual respect and support. The Honour Code system was established during the founding year. All students pledge to abide by the Honour Code when joining CW Chu College. For the second cohort of students, the pledging ceremony took place during the Extended Orientation on 27 September 2013.

‘As a student member of the CW Chu community, I pledge on my honour to comport myself with honesty, integrity and courtesy in my academic and personal life. I understand that failure to observe these standards violates the Honour Code and undermines the community of trust and respect, of which we are all stewards.’

A Student Honour Code Committee (SHCC) was elected by the students in April 2013 and assumed office upon the start of the academic year 2013–14. SHCC manages the Honour Code and deals with any behaviour that is not consistent with it — with maturity and in a spirit of self-governance. The members of SHCC are

LIN Yan Amber 林燕 (Chair), CHA Min Ji Chelsea 車玟知, FUNG Yu Yan Mary 馮裕欣,
LIN Jiayi Eirene 林佳儀, LUO Ruizhe Derrick 羅瑞哲, WANG Shijie Mike 王世傑,
YIP Ching Yi Chesley 葉清怡

STUDENT ADVISING

CW Chu College has put in an advisory system to help students navigate through their studies and life at the University. The College advisory system complements academic advising in faculties and departments, and focuses more on personal growth rather than subject-specific studies. The objective is to ensure that every student will progress at the normal rate and graduate in time, unless there are intrinsic academic or health reasons beyond the ability of the College to deal with.

Advising for new students

The advising system focuses on reaching out to new students, since after one year in the University students should know where they can find help and advice. Year 1 students are divided into 16 groups, each with a member of the College teaching staff or affiliated administrative staff as advisor. Meetings can take place casually at College communal dinners or on other occasions as mutually agreed.

In the first few weeks of the term, the College Master and the Dean of Students have met new students in groups, in an informal and social context, to develop a sense of familiarity and to encourage students to come forward when help is needed.

The Dean of Students will assign a special Advisor to provide more individualized attention as needs arise. This Advisor may be selected to be in the same faculty/department as the student if the needs have an academic component, or to be from the same cultural background if the issues are non-academic and more personal; in certain cases, it may be necessary to match the gender. Since circumstances will vary, the assignment will be made on a case-by-case basis by the Dean of Students.

Where there are specific needs, the College will work with other units such as the Student Counselling and Development Service (SCDS).

STUDENT ADVISING (CONTINUED)

College Advisors for the academic year 2013–14 are: Prof Thomas Au, Prof Chair Sek Ying, Prof Evelyn Chan, Dr Yannie Cheung, Prof Cecilia Chun, Prof Stephen Hall, Prof Vernon Hsu, Prof Jiang Yuanan, Dr Regina Ko, Mr Terence Lam, Prof Lee Tin Lap, Ms Natalie Rogers, Ms Cecilia Sit, Prof Winnie Tsui, Prof Wong Chak Kei Jack and Prof Julie Yu.

Advising for incoming exchange students

With 26 incoming exchange students joining the College in Term 1 of the academic year 2013–14, a team of advisors has been formed to help these students adapt to life in Hong Kong and to see to their needs if any. The team comprises the College Master, the Dean of Students and two affiliates originally from overseas: Prof Angus Burnett and Ms Louise Jones.

COLLEGE ORIENTATION CAMP

The College Orientation Camp (O' Camp) aims to help first-year university students to acclimatize to university life, and to develop a sense of belonging to their College community, as they come in to the University and the College. This year, the baton was passed to the founding students to organize the O' Camp. An Organizing Committee (OC) with a team of 22 members was formed in April 2013; five out of these 22 members also took up the role of counselors and participated in the O' Camp.

The O' Camp took place from 26 to 30 August 2013. Students from different places of origin were mixed and arranged into six groups, with four to five counselors in each. They participated in activities such as CU Hunt, a community outreach excursion, a rooftop gathering, a hunger banquet, joint-College orientation activities on the University Mall and a camp fire.

This year, the OC decided to continue the innovation from last year, and to include in the O' Camp a community excursion. New students were encouraged to reach out to the community and learn more about society and develop social awareness. They were divided into three groups, to take part in a Low Carbon Workshop to learn about environmental issues, a Kennel Visit to learn about animal care and animal rights, and a visit to Dialogue in the Dark to get a feel of life as encountered by the visually impaired.

EDUCATION AND PERSONAL GROWTH

GENERAL EDUCATION

The General Education Programme at CW Chu College consists of

1. a credit-bearing component: an induction course for Year 1 students and a capstone course for Year 4 students; and
2. a non-formal component that carries no credit units: required extended orientation for students in Year 1 and communal dining including High Table Dinners; and voluntary social service.

The induction course (GECW1010 University and Society) is a key component of the first-year experience introducing students to university learning. The course is taught in English, so that students from different origins share the same educational experience. Altogether 13 teachers contributed to the teaching of this course in 2012–13 and 2013–14. They are (from teachers and administrators affiliated to the College) Prof Evelyn Chan, Ms Elsie Christopher, Prof Cecilia Chun, Mr Phil Freestone, Prof Stephen Hall, Prof Vernon Hsu, Prof Jan Kiely, Ms Lone Petersen, Prof Wong Suk Ying, Prof Wu Weiping, Prof Kenneth Young and also (guest speakers from the University Library) Mr Dominic Chan and Ms Kitty Siu.

The capstone course (GECW4010 Senior Seminar) will allow students to synthesize their academic skills beyond the limits of the major programme, engage with a real-life issue of relevance to society, analyze the factors, constraints and options, and present their findings in a cogent, reasoned and persuasive manner. Students are expected to learn and participate actively through lectures, tutorials, presentations, group work and the writing of term papers.

EXTENDED ORIENTATION

To help new students acclimatize to the College, an Extended Orientation series was organized in the first few weeks of class as part of the non-credit bearing General Education Programme (GECW1000), supplementing the Orientation Camp run by the students themselves. Each session was conducted in one hour on a Friday morning, with topics as follow.

LANGUAGE ENHANCEMENT ACTIVITIES

Enhancement of language ability, especially in English and in Putonghua, is essential for students in their academic studies, for young adults in the workplace, and simply for the global citizens of the future. To complement formal classes offered by various University units, the College organizes various activities of an informal nature. Of course, the most important is simply the day-to-day environment in the College, in which the student mix already provides a natural context where English or Putonghua is the common language.

Movie Night Series

During the course of Term 2 of the academic year 2012–13, CW Chu College organized four movie nights, with two in English and two in Putonghua. Another two were organized in Term 1 of 2013–14.

Introduction Sessions to Toastmasters Club

CW Chu College and Wu Yee Sun College, working together and with the help of experienced members of the Toastmasters community, launched a series of activities that will hopefully lead up to the formation of a Toastmasters Club for the two colleges in the academic year 2013–14.

Four sessions were organized in spring 2013, which aimed at introducing students to the activities. Students who enrolled and were engaged in these activities have formed the core group that will lead up to the executive committee of a formal club in the academic year 2013–14. The details of the introduction sessions are as follows:

Social English Workshop

Three sessions of Social English Workshop were organized on 7 March, 21 March and 9 April 2013. The sessions were led by Mr Patrick Gilbert, an external Native English Teacher recruited for this purpose, and were intended to assist students to use appropriate 'globalised' etiquette and English involving different people from around the world, and for different types of social occasions: casual, semi-formal and formal. Students had opportunities to learn, discuss and role-play. College teachers also provided port and cheese during the sessions.

The Social English Workshops will be organized in Term 2 of the academic year 2013–14. The contents will be reviewed to cater to the needs and proficiency levels of students. Pre- and post-workshop surveys will be conducted to ascertain its effectiveness.

MENTORSHIP

Description of the scheme

To extend and realize the vision of CW Chu College, a Mentorship Scheme was first launched in 2012, with the first cohort of students. Mentors are experienced and successful professionals in many walks of life, including many Chu scholars who have benefited from the generosity and mentorship of the late Dr CW Chu. In the spirit of sharing and caring, and giving back to society and for the younger generation, mentors will connect with students, exercise their own vision and creativity, and thereby make a profound difference in the lives of young people. Specifically, the Mentorship Scheme aims to:

1. broaden students' views and horizon of university learning and beyond;
2. enrich and support the college lives of diverse students;
3. encourage self and social exploration through exchange and interaction with experienced professionals in different occupations;
4. help students make informed and thoughtful choices for study and careers; and
5. fortify ties and rapport among the College, Chu Scholars, future alumni and students.

The first cycle

In the first cycle, 33 among the 75 students in the first cohort applied to join the Mentorship Scheme in the academic year 2012–13. All applications were accepted, and the students were matched with 23 mentors, based on shared interests and/or (intended) professions. The mentors first met the students in the inauguration of the scheme on 19 January 2013, and there have been many fruitful interactions since.

The second cycle

In the academic year 2013–14, the College is extending the scheme to the second cohort. In order to accommodate the expected response from students, College teachers have reached out to many friends. It has been most gratifying to find so many senior and busy professionals who are willing to help the younger generation, and in particular who find resonance with the mission of the College. The College in this second year is expanding the list of mentors to 40, and many mentors from the first year have agreed to take on more students. This list of mentors (as of 5 November 2013) is as follows:

Mr CHAN Raymond 陳偉文, Mr CHAU Sze Ngai Jeffrey 周思藝, Mr CHEUNG Alan 張益麟, Mr CHEUNG Chee Wah 張志華, Mr CHIU Bit Yuen 趙必源, Dr CHUNG Wai Ling Margaret 鍾惠玲, Mr DAI Shau Ming Simon 戴修名, Mr FU Man Sang Kenny 傅民生, Mr HEUNG Shu Fai 香樹輝, Dr KAN Sidney 簡振平, Ms KWAI Yuk Lin Catherine 季玉年, Ms LAI Alice 黎貞潔, Ms LAM Ching Chi Queenie 林靜芝, Mr LAM Chung Cheong Benny 林仲昌, Mr LAM Tony 林惟良, Dr LANG Gladys 林巧雲, Mr LAU Kwok Yip 劉國業, Mrs LAU Sophie 劉郭麗梅, Ms LAW Grace 羅慧嫻, Mr LEE Kam Hung Arthur 李錦雄, Mr LEUNG Kin Fung 梁建楓, Dr LEUNG Wing Pun 梁榮斌, Mr LIU Man Lai Manly 廖文禮, Ms LO Alexandra 羅德慧, Mr LO Wai Shing Raymond 盧偉成, Dr LO Wai Shun 勞維信, Ms LUI Mong Yu Grace 呂夢茹, Mr NG Yee Kong Ray 吳宇光, Ms PANG Ming 彭婉明, Mr SHEK Kang Chuen Arthur 石鏡泉, Mr SIU Heng 蕭恒, Dr TONG Fuk Kay Franklin 湯復基, Dr TSE Ka Kui 謝家駒, Dr WONG CK 黃仲翹, Ms WONG Joanne 黃蓓, Ms WONG Wai Kwan Anna 黃慧群, Mr WOO Kwok Yin 胡國賢, Dr YEN Gordon 嚴震銘, Mr YEUNG Shui Keung Eddie 楊瑞強, Ms YU Sau Chu 余秀珠

After the application procedures were completed in October 2013, the College proposed the matching based on interests and preferences, for mentors' approval. Once the students are matched with their mentors, the relationship would be maintained for at least one year and subject to mutual agreement will continue until the year of graduation. The College will organize a gathering on 30 November 2013, to introduce students to their mentors.

SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP WORKSHOPS

CW Chu College, in collaboration with Education for Good (EFG), launched four workshops to introduce students to social entrepreneurship. Dr Tse Ka Kui, the founder of EFG, and his team introduced the concept of social entrepreneurship, the stories of outstanding overseas social entrepreneurs and shared their experience on social entrepreneurship with our students. Details of the four workshops are as follows:

Date	Theme
13 March 2013 (Wednesday)*	Social Entrepreneurship: What it means to you and the world
16 March 2013 (Saturday)	Insights from outstanding social entrepreneurs overseas
6 April 2013 (Saturday)	Young social entrepreneurs: experience sharing from the field
18 April 2013 (Thursday)	Social entrepreneurship and future careers

*at the Fourth High Table Dinner

The series of talks led to the participation of two College students in a study tour to the Yunus Centre in Bangladesh, organized by EFG. In this study tour, the students learnt about social entrepreneurship in the context of a poor country, and the innovative efforts to alleviate poverty through micro-finance. (See separate item in this Report)

SERVICE TEAM AND SERVICE PROJECT

A CW Chu College Service Team comprising 11 local and non-local students was formed in Term 2 of the academic year 2012–13. The team launched its first project entitled ‘Understanding Socially Disadvantaged School Youths through a Social Service Endeavour’ in the spring and summer of 2013.

The purpose is to promote the all-round development of students at CW Chu College through engagement in a social service learning project. The College worked with its namesake — the Po Leung Kuk CW Chu (PLKCWC) College 保良局朱敬文中學, a local secondary school with a large number of socio-economically disadvantaged students and academically low achievers, and, for the purpose of this joint endeavour, conveniently located in Tai Wai close to Shatin. In this social service learning venture, College students confront the reality and dynamics of social deprivation and value orientations. College students developed leadership skills and civic and social awareness, while the disadvantaged school teens built confidence and learnt strategies to mobilize their own strengths.

To kick off this project, the College Master paid a visit to the school on 8 April 2013, and met with the school principal Mr Lung Tak Yee, the vice principal Mr Lai Siu Ki as well as a number of teachers. Members of the College Service Team then conducted briefings for the targeted students and carried out recruitment at the school in mid-May. A total of 27 students from Secondary 2 and 3 were recruited.

The Service Team also submitted a project proposal to the I•CARE Service Projects Funding Scheme 2013 of the University and made an oral presentation to the selection panel in early June. They were able to gain support from the Funding Scheme.

Following a Pre-camp Workshop, a 3-Day-2-Night camp was organized at Breakthrough Youth Village from 15 to 17 August 2013. Activities including mass games, rock climbing and student sharing were held to build confidence and enhance the communication skills of the participants. After the camp, participants from the school visited CUHK on 21 September 2013, for a day on campus and for the closing ceremony. Some sponsors of this service programme were also present at the closing ceremony and the tea gathering afterwards.

SERVICE TEAM AND SERVICE PROJECT (CONTINUED)

A booklet will be published to record and share this powerful and valuable experience. Below are extracts of some of the CWC Service Team Members' reflections:

Some student reflections

- We have grown; we have established friendship with and earned the valuable trust of the participants. I am sure this is an unforgettable summer for all of us and the participants.
- 為這個世界帶來小小的改變。(Make a small change for this world.)
- 這一次同文共濟夏令營改變了很多舊有想法。(This summer camp changed many of my old conceptions.)
- 雖然我在他們面前流下了一丁丁男兒淚，實在是很難為情，但是我覺得這絕對值了，再讓我流十次、百次，也值了！(The encounter brought tears to my eyes, a bit embarrassing for a man, but it was worth it, and I would do it again, another ten times, another hundred times.)
- 我感到自己在夏令營付出的努力沒有白費。(My effort at this summer camp did not go to waste.)
- 我們的用心在他們心中會留下一點的種子。(I am sure our care planted some seeds in their hearts.)
- They have surprised me by not just defying, but rising above all stereotypes. Getting to know them has been a truly humbling and eye-opening experience.... Indeed, the project has evolved to be more than a social service endeavor. It is a sharing of courage and something incredibly close to my heart.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

The summer was long, from the last day of examinations on 15 May 2013 to the start of the new school year in the beginning of September, a period of over three months — but it would be wrong to call it a summer ‘vacation’; rather, it was a time when students took part in a host of meaningful activities, adding value to their education. Some activities were organized by the College; in other cases, the College encouraged participation in activities run by other units. A total of 34 students out of the founding cohort of 75 enrolled in the summer session at CUHK, and among these 24 took up summer residence in the University, mostly in International House Block Three. Two students went on a study trip to the Yunus Centre in Bangladesh, and three took part in a medical service trip to Uganda. Two students went on a global internship in New York City. On a larger scale, nearly one-third of the student body took part in a service project with disadvantaged teens in a nearby secondary school. And nearly two-thirds of the student body contributed to the planning and implementation of Orientation Camp for the second cohort. All these are described under their respective headings in this Report.

Video Taking and Editing Workshops

The College invited Mr Michael Law, a professional photographer, to conduct two workshops on video taking and editing for students, on 20 and 27 June 2013. Mr Law introduced the basic concepts and techniques (including common software used) for video editing and production, using a College video for illustration. Participating students were assigned tasks for practice at home. They discussed their work with Mr Law in the second workshop and learnt from the ensuing feedback and discussion.

Helping to design a document software

Arising from learning issues identified in the College first-year general education class, a project was initiated from the College to design an experimental document software to help students organize the writing of a term paper in a systematic way. The initial thoughts were passed to teachers in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering, who obtained a Teaching Development Grant for this purpose. Five students of the College were invited to help with literature search, and to provide initial user feedback. The system, now under the name Easy Scriptor, is being piloted in the academic year 2013–14.

SUMMER EXPERIENCE ABROAD

Yunus Centre Study Trip to Bangladesh

As a follow-up to the social entrepreneurship workshops, two CWC students, Miss Peng Hejiahui and Miss Yan Wing Hang Pearl, took part in a weeklong Yunus Centre Study Trip to Bangladesh, starting from 22 June 2013. During the trip, they learnt about and experienced social entrepreneurship in the setting of a developing country. Both students received the Reaching Out Award (HK$10,000) offered by the University to help defray part of their trip expenses. They submitted a reflection report and shared what they had encountered in Bangladesh on 21 October 2013.

Student reflections

- 通過這次旅程，我對社會企業的了解翻天覆地，我甚至已經開始認真的思考著去做一些跟社會企業有關的事情，... 與書院同學討論自己的啟發也是熱火朝天，... 這次孟加拉之旅絕對是我大學生活第一年做出的最明智的決定之一。(Through this trip, my understanding of social entrepreneurship has been turned upside down, and I am even beginning to seriously consider to do something related to social entrepreneurship... When I discuss with fellow students in the College how my eyes have been opened, we were so fired with enthusiasm. ... This trip to Bangladesh is absolutely one of the smartest decisions I made in Year 1.)

- The trip to Bangladesh has motivated me to get involved in social entrepreneurship on a global scale. It was an eye-opening experience not only because it enabled me to witness poverty but it also made me realize how people like Muhammad Yunus address the problem. I am grateful that I met the participants in this trip who come from diverse backgrounds and they have helped me to understand the world in a wider perspective.

CUHK Joint College Medical Team to Uganda

CW Chu College was invited to nominate Medicine students to join the CUHK Joint College Medical Team for a service and learning trip to Watoto, Uganda between 19 June and 1 July 2013. Three of our Medicine students, namely Miss Fung Wing Ming, Miss Mak Hoi Ying Stephenie and Miss Tsang Wai Tak, volunteered to participate in this service trip. During the trip, the medical team offered medical services and healthcare education for residents in local villages, aside from giving training sessions for healthcare personnel in babies' home in Watoto.

In support of the students' participation in this meaningful programme, each student was awarded a College scholarship of $10,000. The trip offered great learning opportunities. The students assisted doctors in local clinics by taking examinations of patients, writing prescription etc. Through working with senior medical professionals and local medical staff on the frontline, they gained a lot of hands-on experiences. To share their experiences and inspirations from the service trip, the three students hosted a session during the communal dinner on 30 October 2013.

Student reflection

- I have got much more than I had expected from the trip. ... It was really chaotic in the afternoon. Nevertheless, no mistake was allowed. ... This trip motivates me to study hard in med school so that I can better equip myself and serve my patients with my medical knowledge in the future. I was also impressed by the women at Living Hope. When I compare what they have gone through with my own difficulties, I found myself have no reasons for regret. I shall face my difficulties with a positive attitude.

Global Internship

Two College students, Miss Fung Yu Yan Mary and Miss Lin Jiayi Eirene, joined the Global Internship Programme organized by Office of Student Affairs in summer 2013. They both worked in New York City from May to July 2013. The internship has given them experience in the international workplace, and increased their understanding of contemporary American culture.

Student reflections

- My internship was in a law office. I am very glad that my efforts were acknowledged by my supervisor: she rated me as 'Excellent' on the evaluation, across all aspects of my work performance. I had a fruitful experience in the U.S.!
- I'll say life in America is 'amazing'. There is little stress in the working environment; supervisors and colleagues are all nice. Air quality is much better than Hong Kong and Broadway shows cannot be missed. But I must say American food is too oily and servings too large — and no warm water except on request!

EDUCATION AND PERSONAL GROWTH

OUTBOUND EXCHANGE

The College tries to promote a global perspective among its students, and one of the most important methods is through providing opportunities for outbound academic exchange, typically for one academic term. It is of course not possible for Year 1 students to go out on exchange, but six students among the first cohort will be on exchange in the academic year 2013–14, during their Year 2. Their destinations are as follows.

Term 1

LIU Ling Ling	University of Washington, USA
PONGSAROJANAVIT Peachayaporn	University of Washington, USA

Term 2

CHAN Ka Ki	Karlstad University, Sweden
LEE Pok Wah	Karlstad University, Sweden
NG Tsun Ming	University of California, USA
WU Charles	University of St. Gallen, Switzerland

For the academic year 2014–15, CW Chu College will have 16 one-term exchange opportunities of its own for bidding by its students. Thus, the first two cohorts of CW Chu College students will stand excellent chances to go on exchange in the coming year, apart from competing for the University-wide outbound exchange opportunities.

The 16 exchange opportunities will be offered by the following institutions, with each providing a quota of two.

1. Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China
2. Zhejiang University, China
3. Aarhus University, Denmark
4. Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, Germany
5. Karlstad University, Sweden
6. University of St. Gallen, Switzerland
7. University of Groningen, The Netherlands
8. University of Washington, USA

To help students better understand the College and University-wide exchange programmes for 2014–15, an introduction session was held on 11 October 2013 just before the application period. The External Links and Exchange Committee will interview candidates in January 2014 and announce the results in early February 2014.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

Foundation work and superstructure

Members of the College were delighted that the foundation work for the College premises was completed in the third quarter of 2012. The superstructure was tendered, and the contractor selected, China Resources, took possession of the site and held a Contract Work Commencement Ceremony on 14 November 2012. Members of the College, including many students, were present at the site together with colleagues from the Campus Development Office and other units.

A simple topping-out ceremony for the College Campus was organized by the building contractor on 16 May 2013. Members of the Hostel, Building and Campus Management Committee, including Professor Thomas Au, Professor Thomas Chung, Professor Wong Suk Ying and Professor Kenneth Young, were invited to join this ceremony. Since then, the architectural and engineering team have been working closely with the College team on the interior finishing and details. With the caterer selected in early June, the kitchen layout plan is now largely finalized. College members visited the new campus on 11 September 2013 for a briefing.

CATERING ARRANGEMENT

The College started its search for a caterer in February 2013. Bidders were interviewed by a Tender Selection Panel with a student representative, who collected student views. The recommendations of the Selection Panel, in line with student preference, was submitted to the University Tender Board in May and approved in June. The catering contract has been awarded to Easy Achieve Ltd. The College canteen and coffee corner will be in operation in January 2014. Except for evenings with communal dining, the facilities will be open to the rest of the campus community and should be a welcome addition for those working in Area 39 nearby.

EVENTS AND ACTIVITIES

COLLEGE FOUNDERS' DAY 2012

The College celebrates its Founders' Day each year in November, to align with the anniversary of the Foundation Stone Laying Ceremony in 2011. In 2012, Founders' Day was celebrated on 14 November. On that day, there was a Contract Work Commencement Ceremony around noon, a meeting of the Committee of Overseers in the afternoon, and the Second High Table Dinner in the evening.

Similarly, Founders' Day in 2013 will be celebrated on 12 November. There will be a meeting of the Committee of Overseers in the afternoon, followed by a High Table Dinner in the evening. Since this is the 50th Anniversary of CUHK and also five years since the establishment of CW Chu College counting from the amendment of the CUHK Ordinance, this event is billed as 'CU 50 : CWC 05' and has been approved as one of the celebratory activities for the University's anniversary.

TEA RECEPTIONS FOR PARENTS & STUDENTS

At the start of the academic year in 2013, a tea reception was held for parents and students, on 1 September, the weekend right after the College Orientation Camp, when many local students formally moved into the hostels. A total of 40 parents/guardians and students joined the gathering. The purpose was simply for the parents and the College staff to know each other, and for the parents to get a sense of the College environment.

Dining

Communal dining is a common collegiate tradition in Oxford and Cambridge. Here at CW Chu College, it is an integral part of student life, and is intended to enhance interaction among students and with teachers, and to enable students to benefit from the wisdom and experience of speakers from various walks of life. It is organized on every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Until the availability of the College's own premises, the dinners are held in a self-contained section of the student canteen in Benjamin Franklin Centre, starting at 6.30 pm. There were a total of 68 communal dinners in the academic year 2012–13. The first communal dinner of academic year 2013–14 took place on 4 September and 36 dinners will be held during the first term. Starting in September 2013, the College has within its community 26 incoming exchange students, and they too join communal dining.

Seated six to a table, students have the opportunity to get to know one another and learn from others in different disciplines and from different origins. Teachers are encouraged to join as well, and can make use of these opportunities to meet their advisees.

Dinner talks

In the academic year 2012–13, the College organized a series of dinner talks for students, in which distinguished scholars from all walks of life were invited for a sharing on life experiences or interests. From Term 1 of the academic year 2013–14, the College has started to engage students to share their experiences: on exchanges, on service projects, and on study trips abroad. The Provisional Student Union and the Student Honour Code Committee have also used the opportunity to promote the forthcoming Student Union Election and the practice of Honour Code respectively.

The dinner talks provide students with a relaxing atmosphere to learn more. Since the last Report (covering talks up to 10 October 2012) and up to 5 November 2013, the following talks were given.

HIGH TABLE DINNERS

College teachers and students enjoying the High Table Dinner

In addition to regular Communal Dinners, a number of more formal High Table Dinners are organized every academic year. Students and teachers attend in college gowns, and usually a speaker is invited, and there may be performances. Following the inaugural event in September 2012 that was part of the Orientation Camp for the founding cohort, four more High Table Dinners were held in the academic year 2012–13. In the first term of the academic year 2013–14, the first High Table Dinner was held on the second day of class to inaugurate the academic year, and the second one on Founders' Day in November.

Academic year 2012–13

(The first High Table Dinner in September 2012 was described in the last Report.)

Second High Table Dinner

14 November 2012 (Wednesday), Staff Common Room

Held as part of the celebration of the College Founders' Day, this High Table Dinner was attended by members of the Committee of Overseers and other College guests, in addition to students and staff. Mr Tse Kam Keung, a Chu Scholar, spoke about the transition from school to work, with the title Quest for excellence — from university education to the real world. There was also a cello performance by one of our students, Miss Wong Sum Yu Jade.

Mr Tse Kam Keung

Third High Table Dinner

30 January 2013 (Wednesday), Staff Common Room

On this occasion, Mr Walter Ng, a senior F&B professional, gave a presentation on Dining etiquette, going through menu and food choices, cutlery use, wine and social etiquette in western dining. College student Miss Pearl Yan demonstrated while Mr Ng spoke, and those present had the chance to put the advice to immediate practice, including enjoyment of wine — for those over 18!

Fourth High Table Dinner

13 March 2013 (Wednesday), Staff Common Room

The College invited Dr Tse Ka Kui of Education for Good (EFG) and several of his colleagues to speak on Social entrepreneurship: what it means to you and the world. As part of the College's vision to encourage student involvement with the wider community, this dinner talk was the kick-off for a series of three other seminars on social entrepreneurship (see separate item in this Report).

Fifth High Table Dinner

10 April 2013 (Wednesday), Staff Common Room

The series for the academic year closed with a dinner talk by Professor Gladys Tang of the Department of Linguistics and Modern Languages on Empowering the deaf through sign language research. Combining service for a group in need with original research, the work of Professor Tang sets an inspiring example of how an academic can contribute at the same time to scholarship and to service.

First High Table Dinner and Inauguration Ceremony

3 September 2013 (Tuesday), Shaw College Indoor Multi-Purpose Sports Hall

For the founding cohort, the First High Table Dinner of the year was held in 2012 as part of Orientation Camp, just before the start of the school year. While that was very much a success, the same arrangement this year would have excluded the second-year students, not to mention the incoming exchange students who were not part of the Orientation Camp. Thus the decision was made to hold the Dinner on the second day of the academic year, to bring together new, returning and exchange students, a total of over 170 — too many for the Staff Common Room to accommodate. The College is very grateful to Shaw College for the use of its Indoor Multi-Purpose Sports Hall, which was converted to a dining venue for the evening (the same arrangement as for the High Table Dinners of Shaw College itself).

The University and many other Colleges also held an Inauguration of New Students 新生入學禮 at about the same time — for the University, this occurred in the morning of 2 September 2013. For CW Chu College, two decisions were made. First, we would hold an Inauguration of the School Year 開學禮 instead, in order to include all students of the College — and we can hold all students in one hall. Second, we would combine this Ceremony with the High Table Dinner.

On this occasion, the College invited Professor Ambrose King, eminent sociologist and former Vice-Chancellor, to speak on The role of a college in a university — a topic close to the heart of Professor King as the author of well-known and widely-read books on the idea of a university, on Cambridge and on Heidelberg, and on the intellectual history of Chinese modernization. Professor Wong Suk Ying, Dean of Students, also took this opportunity to introduce the first batch of incoming exchange Students to members of the College.

COLLEGE RETREAT

A College Retreat was held on 30 April 2013 at Ron's Kitchen, Science Park. It was an informal brainstorming session as teaching ended for Term 2, for all College affiliates to quickly review the first academic year and to sketch out the plans for the academic year 2013–14. The meeting was followed by a relaxing dinner.

Many valuable views and suggestions were collected from group discussions in the College Retreat. These have been shared with the Provisional Student Union on 3 June 2013 at a casual dinner hosted by the Master.

COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

In addition to the more structured programmes separately described in this Report, a host of other activities are organized, either by the College (mostly under the auspices of the College Life Committee) or sometimes by students.

Academic year 2012–13 (Term 1)

Mid-Autumn Festival Gathering, 2012

To celebrate Mid-Autumn Festival, CW Chu College organized a party on 27 September 2012, in the open space outside I-House Block 3. College professors, tutors, staff and students shared games, delicious food prepared by the students themselves, and presents donated by the Dean of Students.

Sweet Soup Gathering

CW Chu College students and tutors organized a Sweet Soup Gathering after dinner on 25 October 2012. Students gathered at I-House Block 3 for a taste of their friends' papaya sweet soup, and chatted in a relaxing atmosphere.

Exploring Space with Origami

The College invited Mr Heinz Strobl, an origami specialist from Germany who has invented the new technique of Knotology, to speak on Exploring space with origami on 30 October 2012. He spoke about the evolution of Knotology into Snapology, and demonstrated how Snapology led to 'an almost concrete view' of curved space and 4-dimensional objects. Students also had the chance to build their own origami models with only a few strips of paper.

Master Meets Students

(5th, 12th, 13th, 15th of November 2012)

The College arranged a total of four sessions of Master Meets Students in November 2012, each session dedicated to a particular language group for better communication. The Master, Professor Kenneth Young, chatted with students informally but at some length, about College activities, planning and development, and listened to student views and comments on College life.

Indian Culture Sharing Session

Our Indian student, Mr Shaurye Vardhan, volunteered to organize an Indian Culture Sharing evening on 15 November 2012. Shaurye introduced to his fellow students traditional Indian culture and festivals by playing an animated movie Ramayana: the legend of the Prince Rama, showing Indian clothing and religious ornaments, and sharing Indian food.

Communal Dining on Thanksgiving Day

The communal dinner on 22 November 2012 featured turkey for Thanksgiving. Professor Vernon Hsu shared the story of the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving in America — with some thought-provoking questions about social and economic organization.

VC Meets Students

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Joseph Sung, met with College students on 26 November 2012 in Mong Man Wai Building, to share ideas about University policies and activities, and to listen to student views and comments on University life. Students had the chance to ask the Vice-Chancellor questions close-up and in an informal setting, and everyone enjoyed the exchange.

Farewell Party for Gi

One of our Korean students, Mr Bae Gi Jong, had to take an extended leave of absence from the University at the end of Term 1 in 2012–13, in order to fulfil national service obligations in Korea. Students organized a Farewell Party for Gi on 5 December 2012. Photos, presents and goodbyes were exchanged. Everyone treasured the moment, and we all look forward to Gi rejoining the College community after his national service.

The CUHK 50th Anniversary Kick-off Ceremony–Walkathon and Carnival

In 2013, CUHK celebrates its 50th Anniversary. The kick-off event for the year-long celebration was a Walkathon held on Sunday 27 January 2013. College teachers, staff and many students — nearly half of all students in the College, surely a record in percentage participation — took part in the Walkathon. The CW Chu team chose the longer route, which went past the College premises under construction. Four College students took part in the inter-collegiate lion and dragon dance performance, and Mr Chan Ka Ki had the honour of leading the dragon dance.

Communal Dining on Lunar New Year Feast

The communal dinner on 21 February 2013 featured Poon Choi Banquet for the Lunar New Year Feast. The Provisional Student Union and other students prepared the programme and games for the special day.

One-Day Tour in Hong Kong

The Provisional Student Union, HALO, organized a Hong Kong One-day Tour on 24 March 2013 (Sunday) to introduce the best of Hong Kong to non-local students of the College. They enjoyed Hong Kong traditional food and travelled around the city by tram.

Inter College Singing Competition 2013

Two students of CW Chu College, Miss Cha Min Ji (Korean) and Miss Chan Hei Chi (local), were champions in the group category in the CUHK Singing Contest. They therefore represented CUHK in the Inter College Singing Competition in April 2013. Several teachers and students were present to cheer, and our students delivered an excellent performance, the only one among all tertiary institutions that involved an international student. They were invited to perform at the fifth High Table Dinner on 10 April 2013.

Communal Dining on Cultural Nights

Two Cultural Nights were organized by our students from outside Hong Kong: Mr Shaurye Vardhan (Indian), Mr Lin Tsz Heng (Taiwanese) and Miss Peachayaporn Pongsarojanavit (Thai), during the communal dinners on 9 April 2013 (Tuesday) and 11 April 2013 (Thursday). They introduced their dialects and shared their traditional food with fellow students.

Distribution of Fruits

Towards the end of Term 2 of the academic year 2012–13 and ahead of the examinations, the College sent its good wishes and blessings by distributing oranges to each CWC student on 24 April 2013 (Wednesday) — no C's except vitamin C!

Academic year 2013–14 (Term 1)

Mid-Autumn Festival Gathering, 2013

CW Chu College and the Resident Association (RA) of I-House Block 3 organized a gathering on 18 September 2013 to celebrate Mid-Autumn Festival. The event was held in the open space outside I-House Block 3.

College professors, tutors, staff and students including incoming exchange students from around the world enjoyed riddles, karaoke and a candle-blowing competition. They made wishes under the glow of full moon. Many participants also tried the moon cakes donated by professors, as well as the sweet soups prepared by RA members.

Master Meets New Students

Continuing the tradition with the founding cohort, several sessions were held in October 2013, for the Master to meet new students, to get to know them better. In order to encourage spontaneous interactions, the event was organized in three language sessions (Cantonese, Putonghua and English), all on weekday evenings (2, 3 and 9 October) in the Activity Room in I-House Block 3. Also present were the Dean of Students and other College staff.

Hiking

To help students relax in the middle of Term 1, the College organized a hike at Sai Kung on 2 November 2013. Eleven students participated, and they enjoyed the journey with views of a magnificent reservoir, pleasant woodland and Tai Long Sai Wan, one of the most fascinating beaches in Hong Kong. Many non-local students were impressed by the beautiful scenery.

OUTREACH

Orientation Day for Undergraduate Admissions 2012

The Orientation Day for Undergraduate Admissions 2012 was held on 27 October 2012. College professors, staff and students had a busy day introducing CW Chu College to prospective students and visitors through games and pamphlets. During the sharing sessions, participants heard from a number of current College students, who talked about their College life, hostel life and their feelings towards the College.

CUHK Alumni Homecoming 2012

The CUHK Alumni Homecoming 2012 held on 2 December 2012 attracted more than 5,500 people: alumni, families and friends. With the assistance of the Provisional Student Union, a game booth of CW Chu College was set up on the University Mall, to provide information about the College, as well as snacks, under the banner of 'A Bite of CW Chu College'.

Academic Planning Day for Secondary 5 Students

The Academic Planning Day for Secondary 5 Students was held on 13 April 2013. Over 1,000 prospective students and their parents visited the information booth of CW Chu College in the foyer of Sir Run Run Shaw Hall, and learnt about the major highlights of the College. Two Introduction Sessions on the College were held at YC Liang Hall on the event day. Professor Kenneth Young, College Master, Professor Thomas Au, the chair of the Admissions, Scholarships and Financial Aid Committee, as well as two students took this opportunity to share with participants their College life and to answer their queries.

Consultation Day for JUPAS Applicants

Consultation Day for JUPAS Applicants was held on 11 May 2013 and was well received by applicants and their family members. On that day, CW Chu College set up an information booth on the University Mall. College members and students introduced to the visitors the College's background, features and its latest developments. They also distributed College pamphlets and answered enquiries.

OUTREACH

Orientation Day for New Students

The Chinese University of Hong Kong organized the New Student Orientation Day for HKDSE students on 10 August 2013 (Saturday). At that time, each student had just received an admission offer to a CUHK programme, and was paying the first visit to campus in the new capacity of an admitted student. One of the most important tasks on that day was to learn about the Colleges, and to decide on the College choice.

Professor Kenneth Young, the College Master, hosted two information sessions to give detailed introduction about the features and latest developments of the College, including the full residence policy, the concept of the Honour Code, as well as the facilities to be offered in the College's new premises. Four founding students shared their joyful College life with the newly admitted students.

As one of the highlights of the information sessions, two videos featuring the founding year and the first orientation camp of the College were shown. The College Master, the Dean of Students, a number of College Fellows and Resident Tutors also took this opportunity to meet students. Many newly admitted students were present, and there was a cordial exchange. A counter was also set up for consultation and distribution of College pamphlets.

Orientation Day for Undergraduate Admissions 2013

The Orientation Day for Undergraduate Admissions 2013 was held on 12 October 2013. As in previous years, there was a very large turn-out of secondary school students, and the College again hosted a booth and held two introductory sessions, at which the Master introduced the vision and activities of the College. Four students, two from each cohort, also spoke at the introductory sessions, and many helped at the booth on the University Mall. It was most gratifying to see new students, having been in the College for just over a month, already keen to share their positive experience with visitors.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The development of the College owes much to many supporters who have made important contributions in many ways — because they all believe in the mission of the College.
