

Course Code: THEO5216
Title in English: Narrative Art in the Hebrew Bible
Title in Chinese: 希伯來聖經中的敘述事藝術

Course overview:

Many parts of the Hebrew Bible is written in the Narrative form. In recent years, the literary approaches to the narrative in the Hebrew Bible are proliferating. This course aims to explore the artistic and literary features of the narrative in the Hebrew Bible. Students will learn how to appreciate the so-called poetics of the narrative in different parts of the Hebrew Bible, including the Pentateuch, the Former Prophets and the short story of Jonah and Ruth, and acquire skills to analyze these narratives from a literary perspective. Furthermore, students will reflect on how the literary nature of the narrative in the Hebrew Bible influences our view on the Bible as History and Scripture.

Learning outcomes:

- After this course, students should be able to
- recognize and describe different artistic features in the Biblical narrative
 - appreciate the narrative art in the Hebrew Bible
 - analyze the narrative in the Hebrew Bible from a literary perspective
 - theorize the relationship between Biblical narrative, literature, history and theology
 - reflect and design on the various use of Biblical narrative in different contexts.

Academic honesty and plagiarism

Academic honesty and plagiarism

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations. Details may be found at <http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/> .

With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures. For group projects, all students of the same group should be asked to sign the declaration.

For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment. Assignments without the receipt will not be graded by teachers. Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.
