About the National Academy of Inventors

The National Academy of Inventors is a member organisation comprising U.S. and international universities and governmental and non-profit research institutes, with more than 4,000 individual inventor members and fellows spanning more than 250 institutions worldwide. Founded in 2010, NAI recognises and encourages inventors with patents issued from the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), to enhance the visibility of academic technology and innovation, encourage the disclosure of intellectual property, educate and mentor innovative students, and translate the inventions of its members to benefit society.
