

Faculty of Law – The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Master of Laws Scholarship 2023-24

The Faculty of Law (the Faculty) of The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) is pleased to announce the “Master of Laws Scholarship”, the aim of which is to seek academically outstanding local students to join our Master of Laws Programmes. Regulations governing the awards of scholarships are set out below.

Number and Value of the Award

The Faculty will award two scholarships each worth HK$145,440.

Eligibility and Selection Criteria

All applicants are eligible for consideration for the Scholarship provided that they:

- i. have applied for admission to one of the CUHK Master of Laws Programmes; and
- ii. are local students (defined as those with the right of abode in Hong Kong).

The scholarship will be awarded based on academic merit and relevant professional experience, assessed on the basis of the applicant’s application materials for admission. No separate application is necessary or permitted.

The Faculty reserves the right to adjust the amount of the award or to award fewer than two scholarships in the event that an insufficient number of applicants meet the award criteria.

The Faculty’s decisions regarding the award of scholarships will be final, no appeal is available, and no discussion or correspondence will be entered into with any person regarding the award of scholarships.

Conditions of the Award

Selected applicants must fulfill the following conditions:

- commence their studies in the Master of Laws Programme in September 2023;
- take the normal study load in each term (12 units of courses and 6 units of courses for full-time and part-time students respectively);
- remain in good standing during their studies of the Master of Laws Programme; and
- receive no other scholarships or award during their studies of the Master of Laws Programme.

Announcement of results

The Faculty will inform successful applicants following the issuance of their admission to one of the Faculty’s Master of Laws Programmes.

October 2022