1. To: ALL students

Subject: Class quota in MATH courses

Due to `social distancing` requirements, the quota of MATH courses, as displayed in CUSIS, will be strict. The department is extremely unlikely to be able to add you into a MATH class when the class is full according to CUSIS.

2. To: ALL MATH students admitted in 2018-19 or before

Subject: Capstone courses (MATH4400, MATH4900)

If you wish to graduate by summer 2022, you have to take a capstone course to fulfill graduation requirement.

You are reminded that the quota of every section is a hard quota. No student in the waiting list of any section may be added to the respective section unless some student already registered to that section drops from the course. If you find yourself in the waiting list of a section, you had better register for another section immediately.

The department will impose departmental add-drop consent to all sections of MATH4900A-G after the course selection day.

For further detail, refer to the homepage of the Department of Mathematics.

3. To: ALL MIEG/BMED students admitted in 2019-20 or before

Subject: MATH2050

If you intend to take MATH2050 in 2021-22, you are advised to do so in the first semester. It is unlikely that you will find any place in the section offered in the second semester 2021-22.

4. To: ALL MATH/BMED/MIEG students

Subject: MATH2050

The department will impose add-consent to both MATH2050A and MATH2050B after the course selection day. If you fall into the waiting list of a section, it will be entirely the department's decision into which section you may be added (if at all), without regard of your own preference.

5. To: ALL MIEG students admitted in 2019-20 or before

Subject: MATH2070, MATH2230.

If you intend to take MATH2070 and/or MATH2230 in 2021-22, you are advised to do so in the first semester. It is unlikely that you will find any place in the section offered in the second semester 2021-22.

6. To: ALL MATH/BMED students

Subject: MATH2221

Due to physical constraints of equipment, no student in the waiting list of any section of MATH2221 will be added to the respective section unless some other student originally registered in that section drops the course.

7. To: ALL MATH students

Subject: MATH2020, MATH2040

If you intend to take MATH2020 and/or MATH2040 in 2021-22, you are advised to do so in the first semester. Quota reserved for MATH students in the section offered in the second semester 2021-22 will be limited.
