

THE CHINESE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Department of Mathematics
MATH2020B (Spring Term, 2022)

Advanced Calculus II

TEACHING LECTURES W2, LEE SHAU KEE LT2, F2,3, LEE SK LT 7 ; TUTORIALS W3, LT2 OR F1, LT7.

Introduction

This is a continuation of MATH2010. In MATH2010 differentiation of functions of several variables is covered and now it comes to integration. We will go through double and triple integrals in rectangular and other coordinates, formulas of change of variables, vector analysis, line and surface integrals, Green's, Stokes' and divergence theorems.

This course will cover chapters 15 and 16 in the text book (see below). Notes which summarize the lectures will be posted.

The best way to learn this course is to drill on problems. There are plenty exercises in the text book which you should try as many as you can.

In addition to weekly assignments and exams, there are three to four quizzes to be held in tutorial classes.

Announcements and assignments will be posted in the course webpage usually on Friday after 4pm. Make regular checking of the webpage.

The first two homework will be graded but not be counted in the final grades.

Make-up for midterm and final examinations will be approved only by the presence of a valid medical document.

Honesty in Academic Work

The Chinese University of Hong Kong places very high importance on honesty in academic work submitted by students, and adopts a policy of zero tolerance on cheating and plagiarism. Any related offence will lead to disciplinary action including termination of studies at the University. Although cases of cheating or plagiarism are rare at the University, everyone should make himself/herself familiar with the content of the following website:

<http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/>

and thereby help avoid any practice that would not be acceptable.
