

My exchange life in US is extremely fabulous and amazing. I still cannot forget the huge lobster in Boston, wonderful modern art museum in Chicago, brilliant Broadway show in New York and beautiful flower blossoms in Washington. During this half year, I travelled to a lot of cities and made friends from different cultural background. Exchange is truly a golden opportunity for you to broaden you horizon, acquire a deeper understanding of other culture and train your independent living skill.

Apart from these, the academic life in Brown also delighted my exchange experience. The teaching and learning style here is very open, free and innovative. You might think the workload here must be quite low because of such education style. But actually, it is not the case and the truth is you have to spend more time on reading after class. Before leaving for exchange, I always believed that foreign students did not spend too much time on studying. However, now I know it is completely a misunderstanding. They play hard for sure, but also work hard and sometimes even stay overnight in the library.

If you are energetic, open-minded and willing to face challenge, don't hesitate to apply for the exchange program!
