

Contents

Series Editors' Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Titles from the Daoist Canon	xiii
Abbreviations	xix

Part I. Translators' Introduction

Background	3
Chapter One Thirty-One Fascicles: Cataloguing Scriptures of the Heavens	11
Chapter Two Three Ones: A Stereoscopic View of a Daoist Hagiography	29
Chapter Three Five Stars: Remaking Daoist Ritual	55
Chapter Four Nine Palaces: Later Reconstructions of Upper Clarity	77
Chapter Five Three Hundred Fascicles: Rethinking the Authorship of Daoist Scriptures	99
Conclusion	127

Part II. Translation: The Most High Wondrous Scripture of the Immaculate Numen [Celestial Palace] and Penetrating Mystery of the Great Existence [Heaven] (Taishang suling dongxuan dayou miaojing 太上素靈洞玄大有妙經, DZ 1314)

1 The Three Grottoes	133
2 The Nine Palaces	159
3 The Three Ones	183

4	Three [Palaces] and Nine [Openings]	217
5	Illustrious Code of the Nine Perfected	231
	Notes	283
	Bibliography	331
	Index	345

The Chinese University of Hong Kong Press: Copyrighted Materials