

Taking part in 18 ethnic festivals in Hong Kong: What are We Celebrating? Multicultural Festivals in Hong Kong New Book Sharing Session

Hong Kong is a multicultural society. Each of the various ethnic groups has its own traditions, beliefs, and customs.

Readers of this book are led through different ethnic festivals in Hong Kong, to find out how different ethnic communities have contributed to the city's colorful multicultural context. Through different aspects of life such as food, religion, and gender, we learn how ethnic groups maintain their cultural values and social identity in daily life. The festivals in this book are ordered according to the season they appear in, allowing readers to take part in the festivals accordingly.

Come take part in Hong Kong's multicultural space, and appreciate one another's culture. This is the essence of a global, metropolitan society.

Date: 17/12/2017 (Sunday)

Time: 5:00 - 5:30 pm

Venue: Rm 311, HKICC Lee Shau Kee School of Creativity (Lok Fu Station Exit A)

Speakers: Prof. Siumi Maria Tam, and Dr. Wai-man Tang

The ICONIC Mums documentaries screening and sharing will start at 5:30pm.

In the summer of 2017, a group of Chinese, Indian, Nepali, Pakistani, and Filipino mums in Hong Kong participated in the ICONIC Mums Program, organized by the Multiculturalism in Action Project (MIA). Their mission is to jump out of the box and go into the community. The participants have gained new intercultural experience and friendship through the workshops. Afterwards, they implemented community projects, such as upcycling ethnic handicraft workshop and community flash photo taking. With their intercultural teamwork, they have brought new and innovative power to their communities.

If you wish to know more about the program, please visit the website of MIA:

All are welcome!
