It was a cold day today. After Charms class, Ron and Harry wondered where Hermione went after Ron said something mean about Hermione in front of her.

Some other students whispered and Harry heard them say "Hey, did you know Hermione is crying in the third floor girls bathroom? I heard that a ghost called Moaning Myrtle was haunting that place.."

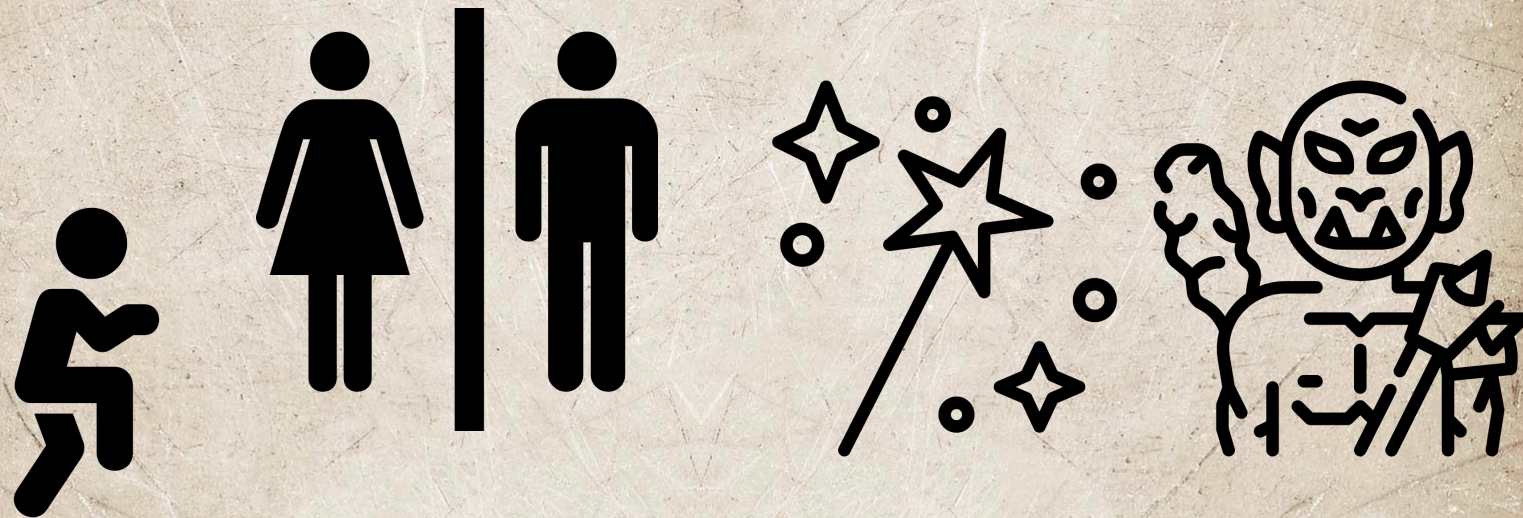

And what's more, Professor Quirrel ran into the Great Hall saying a troll had broken into the school, then he fainted. Professor Dumbledore immediately told the prefects and professors to lead the students to their common rooms. When Harry and Ron were on the way... they noticed something.

Ron gulped. "Hermione doesn't know that a troll had broken in!" said Ron. Harry replied, "Oh yeah! Let's save her." "Wait what?! But that's the girls bathroom!" replied Ron. "Who cares? Let's go!" said Harry, ignoring what Ron had said.

Finally, Ron and Harry were able to sneak to the girls bathroom's entrance. But when they arrived..

The door was locked! So they went for Plan B. Ron pointed his wand to the door and shouted, "Alohomora!" and the magic spell unlocked the door. They entered the girls bathroom, but there was something blocking the way, It was a troll!

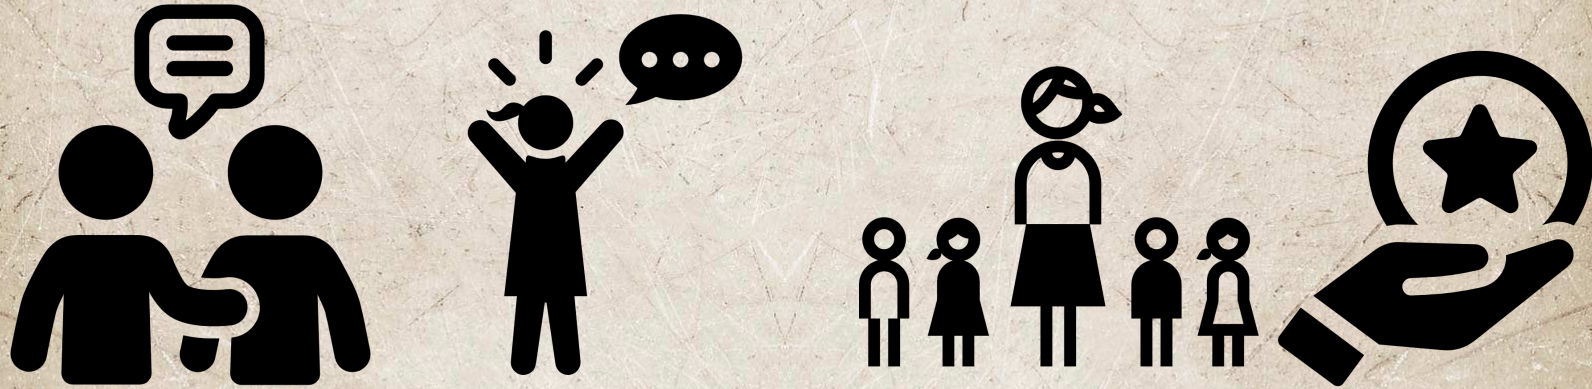

The troll grabbed Harry and he shouted, "Do something!" Ron said, "What?". Harry shouted, "Anything!". Ron thought of a spell that he learnt in classes. And he thought of one spell.

Ron picked up a wand and shouted, "Wingardium Leviosa!". The troll's club flew up and it fell down, and hit the troll's head. The troll was defeated! "Blimey, I did it! With just a single spell!" Ron said to Harry. Hermione thanked them, but suddenly...

"What is going on here?!" shouted Professor McGonagall.
"Oh, uhm..." said both Harry and Ron. Professor McGonagall had other professors next to her. "Explain now, Mr. Potter and Weasley!" demanded Professor McGonagall. "Oh well, I can explain, Professor!" said Hermione at once.

After Hermione was done explaining, Professor McGonagall said, "Nonsense! 15 points from Gryffindor." When Hermione left, Professor McGonagall told them both, "It is indeed strange to find two first years to defeat such a monster.. because of your braveness, you both get 15 points for Gryffindor." she smiled to them and left the bathroom.
