

The Chinese University of Hong Kong
Calendar 1992-93

The emblem of the University is the mythical Chinese bird feng (鳳), which is chosen because of its symbolism as Bird of the South since the Han Dynasty. It is also a symbol of nobility, beauty, loyalty and majesty.

The University colours are purple and gold, representing devotion and loyalty (purple), perseverance and resolution (gold).

The motto of the University is '博文約禮' (bo wen yue li): '博文' is to broaden one's intellectual horizon; '約禮' is to keep within the bounds of propriety.

These words of Confucius have long been considered a principal precept of his teaching. It is recorded in the Analects of Confucius that the Master says, 'By extensively studying all learning, and keeping himself under the restraint of the rules of propriety, one may thus likewise not err from what is right.' (Legge's version of the Four Books)

In choosing '博文約禮' as its motto, the University is laying equal emphasis on the intellectual and moral aspects of education.

Introduction

The Chinese University of Hong Kong was incorporated in October 1963 under a Hong Kong Ordinance 'to establish a university with a federal constitution in which the principal language of instruction shall be Chinese'. The objectives are to (i) assist in the preservation, dissemination, communication and increase of knowledge; (ii) provide regular courses of instruction in the humanities, the sciences and other branches of learning of a standard required and expected of a university of the highest standing; and (iii) stimulate the intellectual and cultural development of Hong Kong and thereby to assist in promoting its economic and social welfare.

The University has its origin in three post-secondary colleges: New Asia College (founded 1949), Chung Chi College (founded 1951), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956). In December 1976 a new ordinance was enacted, making important changes in the constitution governing the University and the constituent colleges. An ordinance for the fourth college, Shaw College, was enacted in July 1986. The new college became operational in 1988.

The University is a self-governing corporation drawing its income mainly from grants made by the Hong Kong Government, supplemented by fees and donations from private sources.

The governing and executive body of the University is the Council, which has the management and control of the affairs, purposes and functions of the University. The Senate has the control and regulation of instruction, education and research.

A wide range of full-time undergraduate programmes leading to the BA, BBA, BEng, BMedSc, MB ChB, BNurs, BPharm, BSc and BSSc degrees are offered by various departments under the faculties of arts, business administration, education, engineering, medicine, science, and social science. There are nine part-time degree programmes leading to the degrees of BA, BBA, BEd, BNurs, BSc and BSSc.

Postgraduate programmes leading to the PhD, MA, MBA, MDiv, MEd, MPhil, MSc, MSSc, MSW degrees as well as the Diploma in Social Work, and full-time and part-time programmes leading to the Diploma in Education, are offered by the Graduate School through its 33 graduate divisions.

While the principal medium of instruction is Chinese, English is also widely used. Indeed, the majority of the teaching staff are bilingual (Chinese/English) and have studied and/or taught in major universities all over the world. The University is international in outlook and enjoys close associations with many universities, foundations and organizations abroad.

The total enrolment of the University in the academic year 1991-92 was 10,143, including 8,391 undergraduate and 1,752 postgraduate students.

The University has six research institutes, under which are a number of research centres. They are the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies, the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (which has been incorporated as a self-supporting research and development entity), and the recently established Research Institute for the Humanities.

Extensions of the University include the Department of Extramural Studies and the New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

General Information

The University

Origin

The University has its origin in three post-secondary colleges: New Asia College (founded 1949), Chung Chi College (founded 1951), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956), which drew, in their early days, a sizable proportion of their teachers and some of their students from mainland China.

In 1957, these three colleges came together to form the Chinese Colleges Joint Council with the object of securing government recognition of their efforts in providing higher education for the students of Hong Kong. In 1959, Mr. John S. Fulton (later Lord Fulton of Falmer) was invited to advise on the general lines of development for the three colleges as a whole. In 1960, the government introduced the Post-Secondary Colleges Ordinance and Regulations, which approved financial support to the three colleges with a view to raising their academic standards.

In 1961, a University Preparatory Committee, chaired by Dr. the Hon. Sir Cho-Yiu Kwan, was appointed to advise on sites and buildings and matters relating to the establishment of the University. A group of advisers from Britain and the United States visited Hong Kong in the same year to advise the colleges on development to university level of courses in arts, science, commerce and social science. The report of these advisers was encouraging, and so in 1962, the government appointed a commission under the chairmanship of Mr. John S. Fulton to consider and determine whether and how a Chinese university should be created from the three colleges.

The Report of the Fulton Commission, known as the Fulton Report and published in April 1963, recommended the establishment of a new university. Shortly after its publication the Report was approved in principle by the government. A Provisional Council was set up in June 1963, and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance and Statutes were enacted in September of the same year. On 17th October 1963 the University was formally inaugurated.

The Ordinance

In November 1975, the Governor, in his capacity as Chancellor of the University, appointed an external commission to review the constitutional arrangements governing the University and its constituent colleges. Lord Fulton of Falmer was again invited to serve as chairman of the commission.

The second Fulton Report was submitted to the Chancellor in March 1976 and published in May. The Report recommended important changes to the constitutional arrangements governing the University and the colleges. Under the new arrangements proposed by the commission, the University would be responsible for academic and development policy, financial management, the matriculation of students, the appointment of staff, the determination of the curriculum, the conduct of examinations and the award of degrees. The participation of senior academics in the governing bodies of the University would be strengthened. In addition, the Report also recommended that the University should strive to strike a balance between 'subject-orientated' teaching and small group 'student-orientated' teaching, and that the latter should be entrusted to the colleges. This 'student-orientated' teaching would be designed to build in the students habits and frames of mind characteristic of experts in their chosen fields and to equip them with the necessary skills for meeting new challenges in a rapidly changing world. A new ordinance to give effect to the recommendations in the second Fulton Report was enacted in December 1976.

In 1986, the University received a generous donation from the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd. for the specific purpose of establishing a fourth college, Shaw College, which began admitting students in September 1988. The Ordinance and the Statutes were further revised to provide for the establishment of Shaw College.

The Ordinance and the Statutes of the University incorporating the amendments over the years are printed on pp. 255-288 of this Calendar.

Academic Structure and Policy

The Chinese University of Hong Kong is a growing university offering a range of full-time and part-time programmes which lead to bachelor's degrees, master's degrees and doctorates.

There are seven faculties (arts, business administration, education, engineering, medicine, science, and social science) and a total of 57 departments offering 32 major programmes and 29 minor programmes for full-time undergraduate students and nine part-time undergraduate programmes.

Postgraduate programmes including 27 doctoral programmes, 46 master's programmes and two diploma programmes are offered by the Graduate School through its 33 graduate divisions.

The Senate has control over instruction and research. The faculties advise the Senate through the faculty boards on the programmes of studies recommended by the boards of studies. The boards of studies are responsible for subject-orientated teaching. The colleges, in turn, are responsible for student-orientated teaching and the provision of residential accommodation. All teaching staff and undergraduate students are assigned to different constituent colleges.

Undergraduate Studies

At its inception the University's undergraduate curriculum was based on a combination of the credit unit system and the degree examination system. After a comprehensive review in the mid-eighties, the University decided to adopt a pure credit-unit based curriculum structure. Starting 1991-92, greater flexibility has been introduced in students' selection of courses and pace of study.

Full-time Undergraduate Studies

The University endeavours to provide a wide variety of major and minor programmes to meet the needs of society and its students. Since the introduction of the discipline of Information Engineering in 1988-89 under the Faculty of Science, significant developments in engineering studies had been made which culminated into the formation of a new Faculty of Engineering in 1991-92. New academic disciplines have also been introduced recently: Architecture under the Faculty of Social Science, and Nursing and Pharmacy under the Faculty of Medicine. Moreover, under the Faculty of Arts, Japanese Studies has been developed into a major field of study and a translation specialization programme is offered to upper year Chinese and English majors. Under the Faculty of Science, a new Human Biology stream of study has been added.

Part-time Undergraduate Studies

The Part-time Degree Programmes were first launched in 1981-82 with classes offered in the evening. The nine part-time degree programmes offered are Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Nursing, Physical Education, Primary Education and Social Work.

Postgraduate Studies

Doctoral programmes of the University were first introduced in 1980-81. With the introduction in 1992-93 of six new PhD programmes in Anthropology, Clinical Psychology, History of Chinese Art, Music, Social Welfare and Systems Engineering, there are now 27 doctoral programmes. Master's programmes were first offered in 1966-67, and the number of programmes has increased to 46 by 1992-93.

Finance

The University's main source of income for both capital and recurrent expenses is the Hong Kong Government. Fee income represents a relatively small percentage of the University's total revenues. In addition, the University and its constituent colleges have small endowment funds at their disposal and also receive contributions from private donors for research and other designated purposes.

Negotiations between the University and the government are conducted by the University and Polytechnic Grants Committee, established in 1965. This committee advises the government on the financial requirements of the University.

The total capital cost of buildings on campus amounted to HK$699 million by June 1991. Although the majority of the funding has come from the government, the University has also received generous support from private donors, whose contributions have made up about 27 per cent of the total capital cost.

Lands and Buildings

The University has a campus measuring some 133.8 hectares located on a tract of land under lease from the Hong Kong Government north of the Sha Tin New Town in the New Territories. It commands scenic views of Tolo Harbour to the north and Tide Cove to the east.

The campus varies in elevation from 4.4 to 140 metres above sea level and has been carved from a rocky promontory into a number of plateaux to provide the sites for buildings of the University and its four colleges, as well as blocks of staff residences.

Buildings for central activities are located mainly at the mid-level. The expanse of land in the valley next to the University Station of the Kowloon-Canton Railway has been the campus of Chung Chi College since 1956. At the highest level are United College and New Asia College, which moved from urban Hong Kong and Kowloon to their present sites in 1972 and 1973 respectively. Each of the original colleges has its own administration and teaching blocks, library, staff/student amenities building, student hostels and staff quarters. Shaw College, commissioned in 1989 at the northwest tip of the campus, has comparable facilities except accommodation for academic departments, as it is designed to be a residential college only.

Around the impressive tree-lined University Mall and the University Square featuring a sizable sculpture and a forum structure with a reflecting pool, the following major central buildings cluster: the University Administration Building; the University Library and its integral extension block; the Institute of Chinese Studies and the Art Gallery with its extension and annex; the Sui-Loong Pao Building (housing offices of the Registry); the Pi-Ch'iu Building (housing the Computer Services Centre); the Y.C. Liang Hall (a lecture hall complex); the Sir Run Run Shaw Hall (a 1,500-seat multi-purpose auditorium); the Lady Shaw Building (a large building complex for the science and engineering departments); the Science Centre Complex; and the Choh-Ming Li Building for Basic Medical Sciences.

Other buildings scattered at the periphery of the central campus include the Benjamin Franklin Centre and John Fulton Centre (two amenities buildings with a swimming pool for staff and students) to the south; the Li Dak Sum Building, Fung King Hey Building, and Leung Kau Kui Building (academic facilities for the arts, social science and business administration departments) to the west; the Health Centre, the Yali Guest House, the Chan Kwan-tung Inter-University Hall and the Chiangs Building (a complex of guest house facilities) to the east. By the main entrance stands on guard a Transport and Security Depot whilst clustered on the hilly slopes to the north lie many blocks of staff quarters.

Descending from the mid-level towards the bay are the Postgraduate Hall Complex (dormitories for postgraduates), the Estates and Maintenance Building, the University Sports Centre and the Kwok Sports Building (squash centre and teaching facilities for physical education), and finally the complex of buildings for the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology and the Marine Science Laboratory on the waterfront. And along the approaches to the University Station sit the Fong Shu Chuen Building and Fong Yun Wah Hall (housing a Chinese language centre), the Ho Tim Building (housing the Faculty of Education) and the Hui Yeung Shing Building (housing the University Press and several departments of the Faculty of Arts).

In the last two decades, some 85 buildings, big or small, have been erected on the once barren hillside. Additions in the year include an integral extension block to the University Library, the Hui Yeung Shing Building, the Kwok Sports Building, the Chiangs Building, and a hostel for 300 on the Shaw College campus.

Building projects under construction or active design include the Wong Foo Yuan Building and two other phases of redevelopment of the teaching blocks of Chung Chi College, an academic building for engineering studies, a hostel for 300 on the Chung Chi campus, an extension to the Ch'ien Mu Library of New Asia College, and a building providing animal holding and other supportive facilities for the medical and science departments.

Other capital works being planned comprise additional teaching and research facilities for the science departments, further phases of redevelopment of the teaching buildings of Chung Chi College, more hostels and staff/student amenities, and the upgrading of engineering services.

The clinical departments of the Faculty of Medicine are housed in the Clinical Sciences Building at the Prince of Wales Hospital, the regional hospital of Sha Tin, about eight kilometres from the main campus. An extension to the medical library and the construction of a special radiological centre are being planned.

Residential Accommodation

The University provides several types of accommodation for staff members, academic visitors and students.

Staff Housing

Staff quarters are allocated by the University to appointees who are eligible for staff housing. There are about 300 senior staff flats on campus in multi-storey apartment buildings, some 100 flats for single teachers and other staff, and several blocks of quarters for minor staff.

The Inter-University Hall provides fully-furnished and self-contained quarters for academic visitors coming to the University for periods of one to two years.

Guest Houses

The University operates several guest houses which provide room and board facilities for guests on short periods of stay in the University. The Yali Guest House, completed in 1974, is a gift from the Yale-China Association. The University Guest Houses I and II began operation in 1980. Two new guest houses, the Chan Kwan-tung Inter-University Hall and the Chiangs Building, were completed in summer 1992 to provide lodging for up to 180 visitors.

Student Hostels

The University and its constituent colleges operate a number of hostels for students who wish to live on campus.

The Postgraduate Hall Complex, consisting of Sir Cho-Yiu Hall, Lady Ho Tung Hall, and the Postgraduate Hall, provides 250 places for graduate students as well as a limited number of undergraduates. Chung Chi College has seven hostels: Ming Hua Tang, Wen Lin

Tang, Ying Lin Tang, Hua Lien Tang, Theology Building, Madam S.H. Ho Hall and Wen Chih Tang. Some of the older and smaller ones are being planned for redevelopment. Together they accommodate a total of 784 students at present. At New Asia College, the Chih Hsing Hall, Xuesi Hall and Grace Tien Hall can accommodate 770. At United College, the Adam Schall Residence, Bethlehem Hall and Hang Seng Hall also have a combined capacity of 770. By 1992 three student hostels have been erected on the Shaw College campus. Together they provide 880 places.

With the exception of the Postgraduate Hall Complex which has 120 single rooms, most student hostels provide shared accommodation in the form of twin-bed rooms.

In addition, the Faculty of Medicine operates the Madam S.H. Ho Hostel for medical students at the Prince of Wales Hospital at Sha Tin, the teaching hospital of the faculty, to provide accommodation for 148 senior clinical students.

Hostel fees range from HK$1,550 to $2,808 a term, depending on the type of accommodation. Special rooms for married students without children are available at HK$1,650 to $2,250 per month. Detailed information on hostel fees is listed on p. 211.

Liaison with the World of Learning

The University has since its inception in 1963 striven to enhance the cross fertilization of Chinese and Western cultural traditions. To this end, the University has over the years established and maintained relationships with a large number of overseas bodies, including universities, institutes and centres of learning, governmental agencies, and in particular, with regional and international associations of universities.

The University enjoys a close relationship with numerous overseas universities. The first exchange programme was launched in 1965 with the University of California. Since then, university-level student exchanges with Georgetown University and Brown University in the USA, Tsukuba University and Soka University in Japan, and The University of British Columbia in Canada have also been established. The University is also a member of the International Student Exchange Programme (ISEP), which is based at Georgetown University. These exchanges are coordinated by the Office of International Studies Programmes. Staff exchanges and development programmes are maintained with a number of French and German universities through arrangements with respective governments and exchange bodies. In Japan, short-term staff visit programmes with Tsukuba University and Soka University have been established.

The University's constituent colleges, too, have cultivated links with certain universities abroad. New Asia College has close relations with the Yale-China Association, Chung Chi College with the Wellesley-Yenching Committee and Princeton-in-Asia, and United College with Williams College and Indiana University. For the exchange of undergraduates and graduates, Chung Chi College has made special arrangements with University of Redlands, Washington and Lee University, International Christian University, and Keio University; New Asia College with Asia University; United College with Williams College and Indiana University; and Shaw College with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Chung Chi College also participates in the Asia-North America Faculty Exchange Programme sponsored by the United Board of Christian Higher Education in Asia, which enables eligible staff to teach as visiting professors for one year in North American universities.

Other units which have exchange relations with overseas institutions of higher learning include the MBA and BBA programmes, and the Department of Japanese Studies. The MBA programmes currently exchange graduates with New York University, University of California at Los Angeles, The University of Chicago, The University of British Columbia, The University of Western Ontario, London Business School, York University and University of California at Berkeley, while the BBA programmes have undergraduate exchange agreements with Queen's College and James Madison University. The Department of Japanese Studies has exchange agreements with Nagoya University of Commerce and Business Administration, Nanzan University, Soka University, Sophia University and Kyorin University.

In response to the growing interest of overseas students and scholars in Chinese and Asian studies, the University launched the International Asian Studies Programme in 1977 in cooperation with the Yale-China Association. The programme makes it possible for participants to take credit-earning courses on China and Asia taught in English and Chinese, as well as courses in Chinese language. So far there have been over 900 participants from more than 27 countries. The programme is administered by the Office of International Studies Programmes. For details of admission, see pp. 205-206 of this Calendar.

The facilities at the University for international conferences and seminars have continued to attract scholars from far and wide. The orientation programme for the Luce Scholars Programme administered by the Asia Foundation, for example, has been conducted at the University for more than 10 years. In recent years, the University has been the venue for many regional conferences or gatherings of international stature. Some of these are organized with local organizations, others with institutions abroad including the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the Inter-University Consortium for International Social Development, the International Association of Schools of Social Work, the International Public Relations Association, the Association of Commonwealth Universities, the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation in America, the International Development Research Centre in Canada, French National Centre of Scientific Research, the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning, and the Southeast Asian Mathematical Society.

The international character of the University has been significantly enhanced by foreign government contributions to the language and literature instruction programmes. Visiting lectureships have been provided by the governments of France, Germany, Italy, and Japan for instruction in their respective languages, and many graduates of the University have obtained fellowships for advanced studies in these countries. In addition, the University has since its very early days benefited from grants from various foundations for staff development, research, scholarships and exchange programmes. These foundations include the Lingnan Foundation in New York, the Asia Foundation, the Yale-China Association, the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the World Health Organization, the Leverhulme Trust and the Japan Foundation.

Cooperation with other universities has always been encouraged and maintained through various associations of universities. Today, the University is a member of the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU), the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning (ASAIHL), and the International Association of Universities (IAU). It has also been closely associated with the Committee for International Cooperation in Higher Education (CICHE) in the United Kingdom.

Over the years, the University and its staff have developed academic links and research collaboration with many educational and research institutions in China. As a result of the open-door policy in China, such exchange activities have been stepped up considerably. Each year, the University receives several hundred academic visitors from various disciplines from different parts of China. They participate in research work, give lectures and seminars and attend staff development courses. Formal exchange agreements have been concluded by the University or its individual departments with the Peking University, Tsinghua University, the Academia Sinica in Beijing and its institutes in Shanghai, the Hebei Academy of Sciences, the Northeast University of Technology in Shenyang, the Fudan University in Shanghai, the Zhongshan University, the South China Normal University in Guangzhou, the Nankai University in Tianjin, the Guangxi Medical College in Nanning, the Shaanxi University in Taiyuan, the Xiamen University in Fujian, the China Pharmaceutical University in Nanjing, the South China University of Technology in Guangzhou, the Shanghai Jiaotong University and the Academia Sinica, Shanghai Branch in Shanghai. The University has also offered courses on international trade and management development for universities and Ministries of China. Teachers of the University have served as honorary professors, advisers and consultants for various Chinese institutions.

The University is strongly committed to the continued enhancement and development of its external academic ties and collaborative research activities, and has established a Committee on Academic Links, chaired by one of the University's pro-vice-chancellors, to provide overall supervision for the University's academic link activities.

To assist University units in pursuing these goals, a new Office of Academic Links was created in September 1991 to provide better-coordinated and cost-effective administrative support services. The office also serves as a clearinghouse for information needed by various University units seeking to engage in academic exchange activities and collaborative research programmes. Under the guidance of the Committee on Academic Links, the office represents the University in conversations with outside bodies on matters related to academic links.

Liaison with the Business Community

The University has on-going working relations with local and international industrial and business firms and with government bodies by providing graduate managerial and professional staff, conducting training and development programmes, performing sponsored and contract research and offering consultancy services. As Hong Kong's economy grows, the need for these services has expanded considerably. Hence, in 1988 the University established the Office of Industrial and Business Development (OIBD) to assist the various departments in strengthening their existing relationship with outside organizations, and in developing new links with appropriate organizations and individuals.

The OIBD is also responsible for investigating the various means by which the University might offer services and programmes that would attract support from both local and international companies. These services might include contract research, product development, staff development programmes, consultancy, special studies and liaison activities with local and overseas universities and research institutes. Furthermore, the OIBD is to investigate possible areas for two-way technology transfer among the industrialized countries, Hong Kong and China, and to identify new businesses/industries with high potential for rapid growth. This will be achieved through cooperative efforts with local organizations and educational institutions.

The Constituent Colleges

With the reorganization of the University following the enactment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance 1976, the Boards of Trustees of the three original colleges, viz. Chung Chi College, New Asia College and The United College of Hong Kong have been reconstituted. Each college board is mainly concerned with the management of the movable property and of certain college buildings entrusted to it, as well as the promotion of scholastic and cultural activities of the college.

Each college is governed by an Assembly of Fellows, chaired by the college head. The Assembly of Fellows assumes responsibility for making and implementing decisions on various matters relating to the college.

In January 1986, the University received a generous donation of HK$100 million and subsequently, an additional gift of HK$10 million, from the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd., for the establishment of the fourth college in the University. The University Council subsequently decided that the new college be named 'Shaw College' and invited Sir Run Run Shaw to become its Patron. To give legal effect to such a development, 'The Chinese University of Hong Kong (Declaration of Shaw College) Ordinance 1986' was enacted in July 1986. The new college admitted its first students in 1988.

Chung Chi College

Chung Chi College was founded in October 1951 by the representatives of Protestant churches in Hong Kong to meet the need for a local institution of higher learning that would follow the Christian education tradition of the 13 Christian universities in China. In 1955, it was formally incorporated under an ordinance of the Hong Kong Government.

The college had a very modest beginning using borrowed and rented premises, first in the Cathedral Hall and St. Paul's Co-educational College, then in Caine Road and Lower Albert Road. Expansion was made possible by financial help from church organizations in North America and Britain. Local churches, firms and private individuals also gave considerable support. In 1956 the college moved to its permanent site in the Ma Liu Shui valley. Between 1959 and 1963 the college received the bulk of its funds from the Hong Kong Government. In 1963 the college was incorporated as one of the three colleges of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Chung Chi College started its religious education and theological training programme in 1957. After the establishment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1963, the college set up a Theology Division for the training of Christian ministers, and later established its own Chaplaincy Office to promote religious activities which include college assemblies, Sunday worship services and Christian fellowship programmes.

Academic and cultural activities are regularly organized for both staff and students of the college. They include seminars, college life luncheon talks, annual education conferences, and the Siu Lien Ling Wong Visiting Fellows Programme. Students are also encouraged to take part in extracurricular activities organized by the college student union, departmental societies, class societies, and various interest groups and student hostel associations.

In 1991-92 Chung Chi College had a student enrolment of 1,848, of whom 894 were men and 954 were women. Most of the students were born in Hong Kong, but a few of them were overseas Chinese. About one-third of the students were Christians.

New Asia College

New Asia College was founded in 1949 by its former President, the late Dr. Ch'ien Mu, and a small group of scholars from China. Their aim was to preserve traditional Chinese culture and to balance it with Western learning so that students might understand their cultural heritage and at the same time be capable of coping with challenges of the modern world.

The college had a humble beginning but soon attracted support both locally and from overseas. Since 1954, it has had the cooperation and support of the Yale-China Association which had been active in educational development in China for many years.* It has also received support from other educational institutions and foundations, notably the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the Asia Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, the British Council, the Mencius Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Ming Yu Cultural Foundation, Hong Kong. As a grant college from 1959 to 1963, and now as a constituent college of the University, it has received generous financial support from the Hong Kong Government.

Scholarly visits and other cultural activities are arranged throughout the year under different programmes such as the Ch'ien Mu Lecture in History and Culture Programme, the New Asia Ming Yu Foundation Professorship Programme, the New Asia S.Y. Chung Visiting Fellows Programme, and the New Asia David Lam Economist Exchange Programme. Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in the college and are freely organized by the college student union and a host of student clubs and societies.

In 1991-92 New Asia College had a student enrolment of 1,884, of whom 915 were men and 969 were women. Approximately 50 per cent of the student population received scholarships, bursaries or other forms of financial assistance.

* The Yale-China Association resumed activities in Chengsha and Wuhan in 1980.

United College

United College was founded in 1956 by the amalgamation of five post-secondary colleges: Canton Overseas College, Kwang Hsia College, Wah Kiu College, Wen Hua College, and Ping Jing College of Accountancy. The five colleges decided to pool their resources to provide better higher education for local students. The United College of Hong Kong was subsequently incorporated under an ordinance of the Hong Kong Government in 1957 with a Board of Trustees as her governing body.

In 1962, the membership of the Board of Trustees was broadened to include representation from the local community and Dr. the Hon. Kenneth Ping-fan Fung was elected chairman of the board. In July 1962, the board appointed Mr. T.C. Cheng, then Chief Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs in the Hong Kong Government, as president of the college. Dr. Cheng assumed office in January 1963. In October of the same year, United College became a constituent college of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

In March 1971, foundation stones were laid for the five new buildings of the college on the University campus in Sha Tin. In December, the college moved from Bonham Road on Hong Kong Island to its present site on the University campus.

Dr. the Hon. P.C. Woo succeeded Sir Kenneth as the chairman of the college board in May 1972. In November 1983, Dr. Woo was appointed to the membership of the University Council and thus resigned from the college board. Sir Run Run Shaw was then elected chairman of the board to succeed Dr. Woo. In December 1988, Dr. Woo was made a permanent member of the board. Sir Run Run was elected honorary chairman and permanent member of the board in December 1991. Dr. Ho Tim then succeeded Sir Run Run as chairman of the board.

A College Endowment Fund was established in 1973 under the direction of the Board of Trustees. It provides essential financial support to many projects and schemes organized by the college, benefiting both students and staff members.

The student union of the college was first inaugurated in 1963 as a statutory body to represent the interests of and provide various services to students of the college. With financial support from the University and the College Endowment Fund, a wide range of extracurricular activities and intellectual exchange projects are organized every year.

In 1991-92, a total of 1,865 students were assigned to United College, of whom 941 were men and 924 were women.

Shaw College

Named after its Patron, Shaw College was made possible by the generosity of Sir Run Run Shaw, chairman of the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd. which donated HK$110 million to the University for the founding of its fourth constituent college.

An ordinance which gave legal effect to this new development in the University was passed by the Legislative Council in July 1986 and became law on 1st August of the same year. A Board of Trustees of Shaw College then came into being and helped chart the course of the college's development in collaboration with a planning committee appointed by the University Council. Chaired by the former vice-chancellor, Prof. Ma Lin, the planning committee was in turn advised by Sir Quo-wei Lee, Dr. T.K. Ann, Mr. H.J. Shen and Mr. Louis Page.

The foundation stone for the first four buildings of the college was laid on 12th January 1987 by Sir David Akers-Jones, then Acting Governor of Hong Kong, and Sir Run Run Shaw, Patron of the college. In June 1987, the college set up its temporary offices in the Chung Chi Teaching Block near the KCR University Station. In September 1989, the first student hostel which can accommodate 584 students was completed. In October the same year, the administration building, Wen Lan Tang, and the visiting scholars units cum staff quarters, Ya Qun Lodge, were also opened for administrative staff, teachers and students of the college.

On 2nd March 1990, Shaw College was officially opened by His Excellency the Governor, Chancellor of the University, Sir David Wilson, and the Patron of Shaw College, Sir Run Run Shaw.

Since the formal establishment of the Assembly of Fellows in June 1987, numerous academic and cultural activities have been planned and organized. They include monthly dinner lectures and visits by Sir Run Run Shaw Distinguished Visiting Scholars.

Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in Shaw College. The first student union was formed in April 1990, and activities along various lines of interest have been organized by different clubs and societies.

In 1991-92, Shaw College had a total of 1,814 students, of whom 900 were men and 914 were women. The first batch of graduates graduated in mid-June 1990, and an alumni association was formed soon afterwards.

Part III

Research Units and University Extensions

Research Institutes and Centres

The University has established six institutes to provide faculty members with financial support and other facilities for research. They include the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Research Institute for the Humanities, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies and the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology.

Institute of Chinese Studies

The Institute of Chinese Studies was established in 1967 on the basis of a broad conception of Chinese studies. It included what is traditionally identified as Sinology, but emphasized the application of scientific methodology, characterized by quantitative and comparative approaches, and the use of experimental methods where appropriate. Subsequently, other areas of studies related to contemporary Chinese culture and society have been included among its activities.

The objectives of the institute are: to promote Chinese studies by serving as an international centre for maintaining communication and cooperation with other academic and research institutions and scholars in this field; to provide local and visiting academic members of the University with funding and research facilities; and to promote the exchange of knowledge and experience in Chinese studies through publications, conferences and research seminars.

Under the Institute of Chinese Studies are the Art Gallery, the Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art, the Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre and the Research Centre for Translation. Each of these units is responsible for the promotion of research in its own field. The institute also provides grants to support special research projects, sponsors seminars, and invites research fellows and visiting scholars from abroad to give lectures in their specialization. The Reference Reading Room of the institute, including the collection of the late Mr. Wong Pao-hsie, contains some 33,081 volumes of books and 316 titles of periodicals.

The institute publishes annually a volume of The Journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and also the bimonthly journal Twenty-First Century. The various units under the institute also issue their own monograph series, studies series and journals and other publications.

Art Gallery

The Art Gallery, established in 1971, serves both as a teaching museum for the Fine Arts Department and as a centre of research on Chinese art and archaeology. As an active gallery which mounts special exhibitions of Chinese art at regular intervals along with displays of its permanent collection, it also provides a valuable service to the community of art enthusiasts in Hong Kong.

Apart from the general collection for teaching purposes, the Art Gallery houses a photographic archive and several important research collections of Chinese art and antiquities. Notable amongst the latter are a collection of 1,300 paintings and calligraphy by Guangdong artists and scholars dating from the Ming to recent periods, over 900 bronze seals of the Warring States to Qing periods, more than 400 pieces of Chinese jade flower carvings, about 1,200 rubbings of ancient inscriptions and a comprehensive collection of Chinese ceramics.

The Art Gallery publishes fully illustrated catalogues to accompany the special exhibitions. In addition, studies on the Art Gallery collections and related research topics are published as monographs.

The Art Gallery has a Conservation Annex which provides technical support for the gallery. This includes the restoration and conservation of works of art, the mounting and restoration of Chinese paintings, woodwork, and photographic services. In 1987, the Yeung Shui Sang Laboratory for Thermoluminescence of Ancient Chinese Ceramics was set up under the joint auspices of the Art Gallery and the Department of Physics to do research and render service in ceramics dating.

An organization, the Friends of the Art Gallery, was founded in 1981 to support the Art Gallery and to promote its activities. Membership is open to the public.

Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art

This centre was established in 1978 to undertake research projects in Chinese archaeology and art. The purpose was to pool the resources of the Art Gallery and the Departments of History and Fine Arts to promote cooperation with museums and universities abroad in research programmes. Recently, the centre has shifted the emphasis of its activities to field archaeology, and its field work team has become active in local excavations, as well as collaborative projects with research centres in mainland China. The centre has also published several series of monographs and other specialized materials.

The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre

The centre has its origin in the Chinese Linguistics Research Centre, which was first established in 1966. It was enlarged in early 1979 under the name of Chinese Language Research Centre, and in 1980 it was renamed The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre.

The main objective of the centre is to engage in comprehensive research on the Chinese language, including such fields as the Chinese script, pronunciation, grammar and vocabulary, and to make available to the public in general and teachers of Chinese in particular the results of its research in the hope of raising the standard of Chinese language teaching in Hong Kong.

Research Centre for Translation

In 1971, a Centre for Translation Projects was established with a grant from the Asia Foundation. It was renamed Research Centre for Translation in 1983 as a result of re-organization. The centre has concerned itself with research and publication in the field of English-Chinese and Chinese-English translation.

In translating from Chinese into English, the centre concentrates mainly on the areas of classical and modern literature. A continuing vehicle for this is the English-language journal, Renditions, published semiannually since 1973. Included in the centre's projects are a series of Renditions Books, of which 12 titles have been published since 1976. To strengthen studies in translation and Chinese literature, the centre introduced a Renditions Paperbacks series in 1986; 15 titles have now been published and are distributed worldwide commercially. The success of Renditions and its sister publications is reflected in the large number of requests for permission to reprint and for translation rights received by the centre.

In recent years, the centre has established links with major research institutions in China and the West, which has led to collaboration with the Research Centre for Translation at Nankai University and the University of Texas at Dallas, on a computer-based bibliographic project 'Index of Translation'.

The centre set up a Renditions Fellowship in 1989 with the aim of inviting annually one translator of world renown to visit the University and carry out a chosen translation project. Recipients of the fellowship include Burton Watson, Göran Malmqvist and Cyril Birch. In addition, a Renditions Honorary Fellowship has been founded to honour translators who have made significant contributions in the field of translation.

Research Institute for the Humanities

Established in August 1991, the Research Institute for the Humanities has three main objectives: to encourage and coordinate collective, especially interdisciplinary, research in the humanities at the University; to identify areas suited to long-term strategic research; and to organize regional and international conferences on the humanities.

The institute will, in the next five years, implement six interdisciplinary research programmes, each of which will consist of a cluster of research projects with well-defined areas of study: (1) comparative study of cultural traditions; (2) comparative literature; (3) human cognition: interdisciplinary and comparative studies; (4) interdisciplinary study of culture; (5) continuity and change: culture and society in transformation; and (6) methodology of the humanities.

To provide technical support for its research activities, the institute is in the process of setting up a microcomputer laboratory with multi-media services, database management and desktop publishing facilities, and networking and wordprocessing functions. This laboratory together with a centralized office staffed with research fellows/associates and visiting researchers will become an important resource centre for research in the humanities.

The institute is primarily supported by private funds and external research grants. Its activities are governed by a management board comprising senior members of the University. In order to keep its research projects in line with community needs and worldwide trends, the institute has appointed several well-known scholars of international repute to serve as external advisers on its advisory board.

Asia-Pacific Institute of Business

The Asia-Pacific Institute of Business (APIB) was established in 1990. Its overall objective is to assist management in local business enterprises to meet challenges of the future and to enhance the growth and prosperity of Hong Kong and the Asia-Pacific region through various training, consultancy and research activities, which include

- (1) promoting and coordinating management training programmes for administrators at various levels. Senior executive programmes focus on strategy formulation and leadership skills while middle management programmes emphasize the development and refinement of core skills in functional areas of business management. Tailor-made in-house programmes will also be available upon request to meet the specific needs of individual companies.
- (2) coordinating and conducting research on major issues and problems which confront managers in the Asia-Pacific region;
- (3) providing consultancy services for individual businesses;
- (4) publishing journals and occasional papers and sponsoring symposia and conferences so as to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas between managers and researchers.

The APIB is supported primarily by private endowments and corporate sponsorship. The institute's activities are governed by a management board comprising senior members of The Chinese University of Hong Kong. The board sets the institute's agenda and direction to ensure that the institute's activities are geared to meeting the critical needs of the business community.

Institute of Science and Technology

The Institute of Science and Technology was first established in 1965. Its objective is to promote interdisciplinary research in the Faculty of Science and the Faculty of Engineering with particular emphasis on projects with long-term regional significance or applied value. It is also an important vehicle of the University for cooperation in scientific research, technological development, and consultation with industries, government departments and other universities.

Centre for Environmental Studies

Established in December 1990 under the Institute of Science and Technology, the Centre for Environmental Studies aims at promoting interdisciplinary environmental research within the University. It will also collaborate with major international research centres, consultancy firms, the Hong Kong Government, and local interest groups to solve environmental problems.

The centre draws on the experience and expertise of an interdisciplinary research team, which comprises academic staff from various fields of studies in the University, to tackle environmental problems from a wide range of perspectives.

Four major areas of research have been identified:

- (1) technical analysis of different kinds of wastes and the study of methods of treatment for each;
- (2) the study of environmentally-induced health hazards and hygienic problems;
- (3) the development of monitoring and decision-support systems to assist decision makers and administrators in managing environmental issues;
- (4) the development of education programmes to promote environmental awareness, and the study of how environmental laws and policies should be enacted to ensure a clean environment.

Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre

The objective of the Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre (CMMRC) is to evaluate the true efficacy of traditional Chinese medicines on a more scientific basis. It is a multi-disciplinary research centre within the Institute of Science and Technology and comprises three units. The Research Coordination Unit coordinates all research projects at the centre. The Service Development Unit is tasked with building up the expertise and facilities required for the authentication of Chinese medicinal materials, and for identifying their therapeutic and adverse effects. The Training and Education Unit aims at promoting a better understanding among the general public of the correct use of traditional Chinese medicines and an awareness of their possible adverse effects.

CMMRC's unique computer databases, originally supported by IBM, have made CUHK a worldwide information centre on Chinese medicine. The centre has produced a two-volume monograph on the pharmacology and applications of Chinese materia medica. An international journal, Abstracts of Chinese Medicines, has also been published on a quarterly basis since October 1986. There is a museum of Chinese medicine which provides reference standards and quality control for Chinese drugs. The centre also undertakes strategic interdisciplinary research projects which will help improve the health-care of millions of people in China and worldwide.

Materials Technology Research Centre

Established in March 1992, the Materials Technology Research Centre provides a base for interdisciplinary and collaborative research in the materials area. Activities include the analysis of the structure and properties of advanced materials, the development of applications for new materials, and the synthesis and processing of new materials to serve the needs of local industries. It is staffed by faculty members of the Departments of Physics and Electronic Engineering, whose research interests cover elemental and compound semiconductors, exotic ceramics, and metal alloys. Studies of the properties of many materials and their processing in various forms – single crystal, heteroepitaxial, microcrystalline, amorphous, and porous – have already started.

Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies

Established in 1990, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies replaces the former Institute of Social Studies and its two research centres – the Centre for Hong Kong Studies and the Centre for Contemporary Asian Studies, and aspires to become a research and academic centre of excellence in the interrelated study of Hong Kong, China, and the Asia-Pacific region.

With its focus on social science research, the institute plans strategic research programmes on the Hong Kong and Asia-Pacific economies as they develop in the 1990s. Topics include economic competitiveness and cooperation, reform and development of China in the 1990s, Japan and Asia-Pacific development, urban and regional development in the Asian-Pacific region, gender in a changing world, the political development of Hong Kong, social indicators and the social development of Hong Kong. A collaborative research programme on southern China, Hong Kong and Taiwan has also been established with Yale University's Council of East Asian Studies. There is a strong policy orientation in all the research programmes planned.

To support its research activities, the institute will build up a data bank on Hong Kong, China and the Asia-Pacific countries. Significant contribution in this respect will come from the Universities Service Centre, which has been an important support centre for scholars in China studies since its inception in 1963. The Universities Service Centre was taken over by The Chinese University through an agreement with the American Council of Learned Societies in June 1988. The affiliation of the acclaimed Universities Service Centre with the institute has greatly strengthened the documentation resources of the institute.

Another important task of the institute is to promote academic exchange, host conferences, receive visiting researchers, and publish research findings.

Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology

The Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (HKIB) was founded in 1988 as a non-profit organization to help develop in Hong Kong a globally-connected biotechnological industry. Its main mission is to facilitate the promotion of technological innovation and the application of new technology in biotech-related industries in Hong Kong. HKIB will initially focus its efforts on three main areas: pharmaceuticals, bioconversion, and diagnostics.

In 1989, HKIB received a generous donation of HK$170 million from the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club towards the construction cost of the HKIB building complex and the operating expenses of the institute for the first five years. The complex, occupying a site of 31,000 square metres inside the campus of The Chinese University of Hong Kong near Tolo Harbour, consists of two separate buildings. The Administration and Research Building houses the Administrative Office, a pilot GMP-certified facility for the production of human health-care products, and laboratories for biotechnical research and product development. The Residential Building provides quarters for senior staff, exchange scholars from China and overseas visitors. The building complex was officially opened on 25th February 1992.

Established as an R & D pilot production facility and a training centre for postgraduate and postdoctoral personnel working at the centre, HKIB, although located at The Chinese University, is a facility open to every tertiary institution in Hong Kong. All biotechnical researchers are encouraged to bring appropriate projects to the institute for development into potential commercial products targeted at the world market.

Faculty and Departmental Research/Consultancy Units

Apart from the six major institutes for interdisciplinary research described on pp. 57-62, there are a number of smaller research/consultancy units set up under the auspices of individual faculties and departments to promote research in various subject disciplines.

The Biotechnology Laboratory

The Biotechnology Laboratory was established in 1986 with a special grant from the Croucher Foundation and Dr. Ho Tim to promote and coordinate research activities in the multi-disciplinary area of biotechnology. Located on the fourth floor of the Basic Medical Sciences Building and occupying a total floor area of approximately 250 square metres, the laboratory is operated jointly by the Departments of Biochemistry and Biology under the Planning Committee on Biotechnology. It is well equipped for performing experiments in molecular biology and recombinant DNA work. Its major facilities include a high-speed centrifuge and ultracentrifuge, DNA/RNA sequencing equipment, an oligonucleotide synthesizer, sterile hoods, and cell and bacteria culturing facilities.

A major goal of the laboratory is to identify areas of research in biotechnology which are of local relevance and interest. Ongoing research projects include the cloning of genes involved in alcohol fermentation and starch hydrolysis, production of recombinant fish growth hormones and studies on the structural modification of an abortifacient plant protein.

Apart from carrying out research, the laboratory also serves as an education centre for biotechnology. Its laboratory facilities are available to students of the MPhil programme in biotechnology as well as undergraduates taking courses in this area. To promote a wider interest in biotechnology, the laboratory also organizes workshops on special topics for both local and overseas participants.

Centre for Clinical Trials and Epidemiological Research

The centre was established in 1988 within the Faculty of Medicine to pool resources and expertise in clinical trials and epidemiological research.

Apart from assisting faculty members in conducting research, the centre hopes to generate funds and other support for the development of clinical trials and epidemiological research in Hong Kong, and to build up linkages with similar centres worldwide.

Activities include the design of research studies, the pretesting of protocols and procedures, data analyses, the evaluation of trials, statistical consultation, the organization of courses and seminars, and original biomedical research. The centre also collaborates with other units in the University on interdepartmental and interdisciplinary projects. It has a library of literature and computer software relating to clinical trials and epidemiological research.

The Hong Kong Cancer Institute (HKCI) was established in 1990 as a focus of activities related to cancer and its problems. Its specific purposes are (1) to coordinate, promote and organize activities relating to the prevention and treatment of cancer; (2) to promote and provide training in cancer research; (3) to educate the public on methods of prevention and the early treatment of cancer; (4) to improve the welfare of cancer patients; and (5) to organize seminars, workshops and conferences for advancing its objectives.

HKCI through its predecessor, the Cancer Research Group, has established an exchange programme with the Tumour Hospital and Cancer Research Centre of the Zhongshan Medical Sciences University. Funds are being sought to build a Cancer Centre at the Prince of Wales Hospital for specialized diagnostic procedures and treatment of cancer patients, which include bone marrow transplantation, operating theatres, cancer outpatient treatment, counselling, and cancer research laboratories.

Marine Science Laboratory

The Marine Science Laboratory was established in 1970 as a research centre for advanced studies in marine science under the supervision of the Department of Biology. The present research emphasis is on the physiology of marine organisms, especially of fish and shrimps, in relation to mariculture.

The laboratory is equipped with a physiology laboratory, a mariculture laboratory, two teaching laboratories, an air-conditioned aquarium, a hatchery house with six enclosed tanks (13 m² x 2, 11 m² x 2, 4 m² x 2), four large outdoor tanks (26 m² x 2, 40 m² x 2) and 14 smaller tanks, and a speed boat.

Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit

The Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit was established under the Department of Psychiatry in 1981 with a grant from the Keswick Charity Foundation. Its primary goal is to study the frequency and distribution of psychiatric morbidity in the Sha Tin district, both cross-sectionally and longitudinally. Information generated will lead to a better understanding of the characteristics of psychiatric morbidity in the local community, and of the attitudes of the general public towards psychiatric illnesses. Such information will also be useful in the development of reliable rating scales for local Chinese people, the establishment of a psychiatric morbidity register, and the evaluation of local psychiatric services.

Following a pilot study of the methodology for community survey in Tai Po, the research unit has recently completed a large-scale community psychiatric survey in the Sha Tin District.

Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production

The Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production established under the Department of Biology aims at producing high quality food protein from wastes and simultaneously achieving pollution control. There are two main streams of research: (1) the production of food protein from sewage wastes by intensive aquaculture through successive steps in the food chain of algae, shrimp, fish, etc. and through vegetable crop production from sewage sludge; (2) the production of straw mushroom and other edible mushrooms from cotton wastes, sawdusts and used tea leaves. In addition, protoplast-based techniques for genetic manipulations in microorganisms have also been developed.

Research Laboratory for Food Science

Established in 1991 under the Department of Biology, the Research Laboratory for Food Science aims to serve the food industries in both Hong Kong and China through research, the development of new food products and new technology in food processing. Efforts are now focused on modernizing the processing of traditional Chinese food items, and using integrative biotechnology to develop health food products.

Current research projects include:

- (1) monitoring the processing and development of shrimp paste production;
- (2) developing mushrooms as health food items;
- (3) quality control in the canning of mushrooms;
- (4) analysing the medicinal and nutritional value of mushrooms;
- (5) cloning of DNA for the allergens of shrimps;
- (6) using molecular approaches to breed mushrooms;
- (7) exploring the production of mushroom flavourings for commercial purposes;
- (8) producing microbial products for use in food industries.

Statistical Consulting Services Unit

The Statistical Consulting Services Unit is a consulting unit established in 1984 under the Department of Statistics. Its objective is to encourage the proper use of statistical methodology and to provide statistical expertise to colleagues on campus and to outside organizations. Since then, more programmes at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels have been jointly organized with academic institutions and universities overseas. Examples include a bachelor course in business (accounting) offered in 1988 together with the University College of Southern Queensland and a graduate diploma course in business administration offered in 1989 in conjunction with the Graduate School of Management of Monash University in Australia.

Other joint programmes currently offered by the department include the graduate diploma of business administration (first-year MBA courses), fast-track postgraduate diploma in hospitality and tourism, graduate diploma of computing, joint programme in advanced nursing (bachelor of nursing), the business programme for bankers (accredited programmes in banking), advanced diploma in adult education and master's degree in library and information science (MLIS).

Enrolment in 1991-92 for all courses (including general courses, degree, certificate/diploma, correspondence, radio, TV and self-learning courses) amounted to 43,118.

The Department of Extramural Studies runs a Town Centre on the 13th, 14th and 17th floors of Oriental Centre at 67 Chatham Road South, Kowloon. In order to provide more learning opportunities for those living in the more remote districts, some courses are held in Causeway Bay, Tsuen Wan, Sha Tin, Kwun Tong, Mei Foo, Ho Man Tin and Tai Po at rented school premises. Information brochures and leaflets are issued regularly and are obtainable free upon request.

New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre

The New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre offers courses designed primarily for non-native speakers of Chinese. Founded in 1963 under the joint auspices of New Asia College and the Yale-China Association, the centre became a part of the University in 1974.

Every year over 300 students from different parts of the world are admitted to the language centre. These students range from absolute beginners to trained sinologists who wish to polish their spoken Chinese or learn a Chinese dialect. Courses are offered at all levels so that any student can find training which suits his needs and ability. The language centre also regularly teaches Mandarin to thousands of local Cantonese-speaking residents, including students of the University. The faculty of the language centre prepares a significant portion of its own teaching materials and audio-visual aids for the students.

The centre operates on a three-term system with the first and second terms lasting approximately 15 weeks each and the summer term 10 weeks. Students may register for admission to any term. Beginners' courses are offered every term. The full-time programme of 15 sessions of classroom instruction per week constitutes the maximum course load. The maximum class size is eight students, while most classes average between four and five. In exceptional cases, private tutorials and part-time classes are available. Tuition fees for language centre courses are printed on p. 211 of this Calendar.

The centre has a full complement of tapes for teaching purposes. Language laboratory facilities are available.

The centre gives credits according to the American system and issues grades and transcripts. Courses taken at the centre have been recognized by major universities for degree credit. For students from institutions not using the credit system, transcripts are prepared in sufficient detail to present a clear picture of the work accomplished by each student.

Copies of an information brochure are obtainable free upon request. All correspondence should be addressed to the Director, New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Sha Tin, New Territories.

Support Facilities and Services

Support Facilities and Services

The Library System

The Library System, introduced in 1963 with the establishment of the University, coordinates the collections and services of the University Library (founded 1965) and the branch libraries: the Chung Chi College library (founded 1951), the New Asia College library (founded 1949), the United College library (founded 1956), and the Medical library (founded 1980). The administration of the Library System is centralized under the University Librarian.

The University Library, which started operation in rented premises in Kowloon, was accommodated temporarily in the Benjamin Franklin Centre for three years from 1969, and moved into its present premises in 1972. The five-storey library building has a floor space of 7,993 square metres. It can house over 400,000 volumes of books and accommodate 500 readers. It is one of the most modern academic libraries in East Asia, fully equipped with the usual study rooms and carrels for readers, conference and seminar rooms, an audio-visual room, microfilm facilities, a rare book room and a book bindery.

The University Library is primarily a reference and research library for the use of staff and students of the University and visiting scholars. The branch libraries at the colleges are basically undergraduate libraries but each has some unique features. Elisabeth Luce Moore Library of Chung Chi College holds strong collections in music and religious studies. Ch'ien Mu Library of New Asia College houses good collections in Chinese literature, fine arts and philosophy. Wu Chung Library of United College has a Hong Kong Collection as well as a notable Modern Drama Collection. Medical collections are housed in two different locations, with the pre-clinical materials in the University Library and the clinical materials in the Li Ping Medical Library, which is a part of the teaching hospital complex in Sha Tin.

All acquisitions and cataloguing activities are carried out in the University Library, which maintains a union catalogue of the holdings of the entire system. The holdings of the Library System as of 30th June 1992 are:

	East Asian	Western
Books and bound volumes of periodicals	536,600	586,100
Current journal titles	2,520	5,410

In 1977, the Library System began to publish its Bibliographical Series, covering aspects of both the collections of the system and Hong Kong publications.

For cataloguing purposes, the Library of Congress system has been used since 1969 for Western language materials and since 1971 for East Asian materials. Medical books are classified according to the National Library of Medicine scheme. An on-line circulation system was installed for the libraries on campus.

By using modern telecommunication and computer technology, the library is now able to search electronically through files of databases and locate within seconds precisely the periodical or book citations and abstracts needed. The Library's Information Retrieval Service is connected by terminals through a telecommunications satellite to database vendors in the USA and the UK.

Universities Service Centre

The Universities Service Centre holds one of the best collections of original source materials on contemporary China. Established in 1963 by a group of Western scholars, it served as the centre of activity for several generations of China scholars. A new lease of life has been given to the centre since its management was transferred from the American Council of Learned Societies to The Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1988.

The centre is at present accommodated in the University Library building and houses 24,000 titles of monographs and a complete set of newspaper runs for every Chinese province from 1949 to the present. Currently it subscribes to 1,300 Chinese magazines, over 70 English magazines and more than 300 Chinese newspapers. It is open for use by both local and international scholars.

The Chinese University Press

The University started its publishing activity in 1967 with the establishment of the Publications Office. After a decade of experience in this field, the University established The Chinese University Press in 1977.

Last year, the Press published 55 titles including books in special series such as the Hong Kong studies series, the paperback series of the Hong Kong Centre for Economic Research, and the series of the Institute of Chinese Studies. Since 1988, the press has also published general books in addition to its academic publications. By April 1992, 30 titles in this category have been published. In April 1991, the Press began producing audio and video tapes for the commercial market. The first in this category of publication is likely to be language tapes of various kinds.

The Press has good connections with many university presses and learned societies both in Hong Kong and overseas. It has co-published books with the university presses of Harvard, Columbia, Princeton and the University of Washington. It has also entered into joint publication arrangements with commercial publishers in the USA, the UK, Japan and Sweden.

The Chinese University Press is a member of the Association for Asian Studies (AAS), the International Association of Scholarly Publishers (IASP) and the Society for Scholarly Publishing (SSP). It is also an international member of the Association of American University Presses (AAUP).

Computer Services Centre

The Computer Services Centre provides services to students, faculty, research and administrative staff of the University. The centre houses two IBM systems including an IBM 4381 mainframe and an IBM 9375 minicomputer in an SNA network; four DEC Micro VAXs including a Micro VAX 3400, a Micro VAX II and two Micro VAX 2000 in a local area VAX cluster; an HP 9000 minicomputer; a large pool of PCs in a 3Com LAN and a laboratory of 40 Macintoshes in an AppleTalk. All PC workstations on the LAN can access the mainframe and minicomputers in the centre. The workstation laboratory of the centre houses a number of workstations including an IBM RS/6000, a DEC station, a NeXT and a Silicon Graphics.

The centre is divided into five sections: the User Services Section, the Microcomputer Applications Section, the Systems and Operations Section, the Data Communications and Networking Section and the Administrative Support Section. The services provided by the centre include:

- (1) basic computer time for job processing on the above systems;
- (2) consultation services and technical advice for users with programming problems;
- (3) application packages programme services and consultation on appropriate packages and software systems to meet particular application requirements;
- (4) programming services in support of specially approved applications;
- (5) seminars on the use of different computer systems and packages;
- (6) reference manuals and other documentation services;
- (7) microcomputer application services which include technical support, technology transfer, office automation support and academic and research support;
- (8) workstation support which includes technical support, technology transfer and software evaluation;
- (9) data communication and networking services which include planning of the campus network, setting up an electronic-mail backbone with directory services and linkages to various E-mail systems on campus, evaluation and selection of network equipment in the University, setting up data communication equipment, installing intra-office cabling, and maintaining linkages with computer networks of the outside world.

The Chinese University Computer Services Centre is an integral component of the University and Polytechnic Computer Centres (UPCC) System. This system comprises an advanced data communications network linking the computer facilities of the UPCC member institutions. The system is also linked to BITNET and Internet. The former is an international academic information-transfer network that links up more than 2,900 institutional and departmental computers at over 450 institutions of higher education and research centres, and provides a free E-mail service for staff and postgraduates of each member institution. The latter is a large 'network of networks' with approximately 540,000 hosts covering most educational institutes, research centres, government agencies, and commercial and industrial enterprises in the USA, the UK, Australia, Germany and Canada. The network provides remote computer connection, file transfer and E-mail services. The facilities of both BITNET and Internet are available to members of the University community upon request.

Information Management Unit

The Information Management Unit provides programming support and systems development services for University administration applications. The unit serves as a management information centre for all the departments within the administration and provides them with systematic and timely information for planning and decision-making. Efforts are being made to further computerize administrative procedures and develop an effective management information system. In centralizing and coordinating the University's data, the unit pays particular attention to data collection, validation, efficient data processing and elimination of redundant data and duplication of processing efforts.

The unit is made up of a number of application systems development teams, a technical support team, a production support team, and a systems maintenance team, whose services include:

- (1) feasibility studies for new applications;
- (2) development of computer application systems;
- (3) documentation for developed application systems;
- (4) maintenance and support of production systems;
- (5) management of the computer systems and software products used by the administration;
- (6) setting up databases for management information;
- (7) processing ad hoc information requests.

The Information Management Unit has developed application systems under both the mainframe computer system – IBM 4381 in the Computer Services Centre, and the departmental computer system – IBM AS/400 and PCs in the registry, secretariat and bursary. All these computer systems are connected by an advanced data communications network. Workstations attached to one computer system can have access to other computer systems and applications residing in the overall network.

Services for Students and Student Activities

The Office of Student Affairs attends to student welfare and helps students take full advantage of their university education. The activities of the office are administered through its six sections: the Appointments Service, the Psychological Counselling Unit, the Student Activities Section, the Scholarships and Financial Aid Section, the Student Amenities/Staff/Student Centres Management Section and the Statistics, Research and Publication Unit.

The University Appointments Service is a centre for career guidance and employment information; it is responsible for initiating and developing job opportunities for graduates of the University, organizing career guidance programmes, and helping employers with their recruitment of staff at the graduate level. It also administers guidance services to students who intend to further their studies after graduation.

The Student Activities Section coordinates university-wide student activities; liaises with the student unions and their affiliated societies and provides assistance and advice for various student functions and activities.

The Scholarships and Financial Aid Section administers scholarships, bursaries, emergency bursaries, student work study schemes and loans from private donations and assists in the administration of the Government Financial Aid Scheme.

The Psychological Counselling Unit provides the following services: (1) individual counselling for students having psychological, interpersonal, and other adjustment problems; (2) small group training in areas such as stress management, social skills and personal growth; (3) research on students' mental health and psychological needs.

The Student Amenities/Staff/Student Centres Management Section is responsible for managing student amenity facilities in the Benjamin Franklin Centre and the John Fulton Centre. It also coordinates policies on catering services and student hostels.

The Statistics, Research and Publication Unit undertakes research and statistical work related to the career development of graduates and the general characteristics and need assessments of students. It also coordinates the editing and production of all official publications of the office such as Student Affairs, Appointments Service News Bulletin, Student Activities Handbook, Graduate Careers Handbook, For First Job Seekers, Graduate Studies Abroad, A Handbook of Scholarships and Financial Aid to Students, Pamphlets on Study Skills, etc.

Counselling on social, psychological, financial as well as academic problems is also provided by the dean of students offices at the colleges. These offices administer college scholarship and bursary awards and also play a vital role in the enrichment of college life. In close cooperation and collaboration with the college student unions and their affiliated societies, the dean of students offices also oversee the execution of college-wide student activities.

At present, there are five student unions in the University, one each for Chung Chi College, New Asia College, United College, Shaw College and one for the University as a whole. The latter maintains close links with the college unions and coordinates university-wide activities. All year round, a wide range of activities, including academic, athletic, cultural as well as social functions are organized by the student unions. These include the Freshmen Orientation Camp, the Swimming Gala, and the University Track and Field Meet.

Health Service

The University Health Service is charged with the responsibility of meeting the health needs of students, staff and their dependents. A comprehensive primary care service has been developed to handle the medical, dental, and psychological problems of students through a series of programmes on health education and preventive care.

The Health Centre is open from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9.00 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. on Saturdays. Services include

- (1) diagnosis, counselling, preventive and curative treatment, diagnostic laboratory tests and physiotherapy;
- (2) health education programmes and other related activities;

- (3) twenty-four-hour nursing service Monday through Saturday morning;
- (4) in-patient care for students in need of observation, isolation, diagnosis and treatment;
- (5) dental services;
- (6) physical examinations for certification purposes;
- (7) coordination of access to special laboratory and x-ray services, referrals to appropriate specialists, treatment centres or hospitals.

No charges are levied on any of the clinical services provided directly by the University Health Service, with the exception of house visits and dental services.

Sports Facilities

To promote students' interest in physical education, the University provides a variety of sports facilities, including two sports fields, three gymnasias, a swimming pool, nine tennis courts, three squash courts, four weight training rooms, several multi-purpose courts, and a water sports centre.

The sports fields are built with covered spectator stands on the lowlands facing the sea. The Hadden-Cave Sports Field (with a seating capacity of 2,800 and flood-lighting facilities) provides a 400-metre all-weather track, a soccer pitch and a handball court. The Chung Chi Sports Field provides a 400-metre track, a soccer pitch, a basketball court and a volleyball court. Each of the three indoor gymnasias (New Asia, United and University) houses badminton courts, basketball/volleyball courts, dance studios and table-tennis tables. The multi-purpose hall on the Chung Chi campus provides similar facilities at a slightly diminished capacity. On the Shaw College campus, there are three indoor squash courts and a games hall. Adjacent to the Benjamin Franklin Centre, the staff-student amenities building, is an outdoor Olympic-sized swimming pool. The Water Sports Centre is located on the Tolo Harbour shoreline and is open to staff and students for sailing and canoeing. A squash centre is under construction at the University Sports Centre.

The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall

The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall is a well-equipped auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500, designed for holding ceremonies, assemblies, meetings, lectures and exhibitions, and for staging concerts, plays and film shows. The hall also utilizes its own Cultural Activities Fund to present and sponsor high-quality stage performances and film shows, as well as to organize activities such as talks and workshops related to the performing arts.

Information Services and University Publications

Public Relations and Information Service

The Information Office of the University Secretariat is mainly responsible for providing information and public relations services both internally and externally.

The office maintains close liaison with the media. This includes answering press enquiries and regularly issuing press releases on University news and developments.

The office handles both internal and external enquiries, informs the University community on campus activities through the compilation of the Weekly Events, and helps update information about the University for local and overseas publications.

The office also organizes official functions and ceremonies such as degree congregations, lectures, seminars, presentation ceremonies and other staff club activities.

It is also responsible for hosting local and overseas visitors and producing information brochures, slides and videos to introduce the University to visitors.

Publications on the University

The Publication Office of the University Secretariat produces five major publications to provide different types of information about the University.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong Calendar, published in Chinese and English around October every year, is intended as a general introduction to the history, organization and academic programme of the University. Copies are on sale at The Chinese University Press and the University Bookstore.

Information about University activities, developments and recent achievements is given in the Chinese University Bulletin, published three times a year in Chinese and English. A Professorial Inaugural Lecture Series and a Wei Lun Lecture Series are published as supplements of the Chinese University Bulletin. The Bulletin and its supplements are distributed free to members and friends of the University.

A monthly CUHK Newsletter, which carries University news, announcements, personalia, as well as interviews and feature articles, is published primarily for staff members of the University.

Detailed description of the academic programmes offered by the University is contained in the CUHK Student Handbook (in both Chinese and English) published annually.

The Publication Office has also published seven Vice-Chancellor's Reports. The latest one covers the period 1987 to 1990. The series traces steps of development in the University since its inception in 1963.

Information about research activities and staff publications is contained in two annual publications compiled by the University's Research Administration Office. They are respectively entitled Research Projects Summary and Staff Publications List.

A student who satisfies the conditions for graduation shall be awarded a Bachelor's degree with one of the following classifications: First Class Honours, Second Class Honours Upper Division, Second Class Honours Lower Division, Third Class Honours and Pass. Degree classification is based on the grade point averages and the results of the comprehensive examination or its equivalent. However, the degrees of MB ChB are awarded on the basis of professional examinations taken at the end of the second to the fifth medical years and the degree of BNurs is awarded on the basis of achievement in nursing courses.

Curriculum Structure

The normal length of study for a full-time programme is three to four years with the exception of medical studies and some professional programmes which have prescribed otherwise. The curriculum (excluding the MB ChB Programme, the Intercolated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences and the Nursing Programme) is based on a credit unit system. Details of the curriculum structure are presented below:

For graduation, a student shall successfully complete at least 123 units of courses. Secondary Seven entrants are, however, considered to have completed 24 units of courses upon admission in recognition of their pre-university achievement. A student is required to sit for course examinations at the end of each term. He is also required to obtain satisfactory results in a comprehensive examination or graduation thesis/project, where prescribed.

The units of courses required for graduation shall include:

- (a) General Education (14-15 units depending on the college to which he belongs),
- (b) General Chinese (six units unless exempted),
- (c) General English (six units unless exempted),
- (d) Physical Education (two units),
- (e) Major programme (normally 60-72 units),
- (f) Minor and/or elective courses (the remaining units).

A student who opts to take a minor programme shall formally register for his minor subject, preferably in the second year of attendance. A minor programme normally requires 18-30 units of courses. If approval has been obtained from the relevant Faculty Board, a student may elect two minor subjects.

Programmes in the Faculty of Medicine

The Faculty of Medicine offers a non-unit-based professional programme leading to the degrees of MB ChB. The programme requires two pre-clinical years and three clinical years of study. A medical student shall normally enter the Faculty of Science as a potential medical major and be admitted formally to the Faculty of Medicine in the next year. Besides taking the professional courses required by the faculty, the student shall also complete in compliance with University requirements the General Education Programme, the General Chinese and General English courses (unless exempted) and the Physical Education courses. Students who have completed their pre-clinical studies with satisfactory results may apply for admission to the Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences.

A medical student shall sit for both the professional examinations and periodic assessments of individual subjects. The first and second professional examinations will be held respectively at the end of medical year two and year three. The third professional examination consists of two parts, to be taken at the end of medical year four and year five respectively. The three clinical years of study will be conducted at the teaching hospital in Sha Tin in the various clinical departments. The student is also required to serve one year's internship at a recognized hospital after graduation.

The Nursing Programme leading to the degree of BNurs is designed for registered nurses with at least two years of post-registration experience. The length of study is two years for a full-time programme and four years for a part-time programme. The faculty also offers a Bachelor of Pharmacy Programme which follows the credit unit system.

Programmes

Explanatory notes on Codes and Signs Used

A course code comprises three alphabets, three numerals and one numeral/alphabet. The first three alphabets stand for the subject (e.g. CHI, ENG, BIO, stand for Chinese, English and Biology respectively). The first numeral stands for the level of study. Undergraduate courses are coded 1 to 4 while postgraduate courses are coded 5 to 6 (where 5 denotes first year in Graduate School and 6 denotes second year in Graduate School). The numeric code starting with 0 stands for a course by Student-orientated Teaching.

Normally, lower level courses should be taken before upper level courses. However, for the sake of flexibility, most courses are open to students of all years of attendance subject to satisfactory fulfilment of prerequisite and co-requisite requirements. Under special circumstances, a Board of Studies may allow a waiver from these requirements. In fulfilling the total unit requirements of a major or minor programme, students should follow a prescribed study scheme and complete the required and elective courses as given therein.

Part-time Undergraduate Studies

(Applicable to students admitted in 1991-92 and after)

General Information

The University offers nine part-time degree programmes: Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Nursing, Physical Education, Primary Education, and Social Work programmes. (The University has suspended the admission of students to the Part-time Degree Programme in Social Work since 1989-90.) General Regulations Governing Part-time Undergraduate Studies are printed on pp. 323-335 of this Calendar. Eligibility for admission is conditional upon fulfilling entrance requirements or obtaining exemption therefrom in accordance with Section 2.0 of the General Regulations Governing Part-time Undergraduate Studies. (For admission to the Nursing Programme, please refer to the Regulations Governing Undergraduate Nursing Studies on pp. 319-322.) Degrees are awarded on the same basis as those of the full-time programmes described on p. 84.

Curriculum Structure

The normal length of study of a part-time programme is six years, with three terms in each year (with the exception of the Nursing Programme). Apart from completing requirements of the major subject, students are also required to take language and general education courses and/or elective courses in other disciplines.

The University adopts with effect from 1991-92 a full-fledged credit unit system in the undergraduate curriculum (with the exception of the Nursing Programme). Students are required to complete before graduation at least 123 units of courses. However, students who are admitted on the strength of the results in the Hong Kong Advanced Level Examination shall be considered to have completed 24 units. Therefore, the minimum units required for graduation for these students are 99, and they can graduate in five years subject to the fulfillment of the prescribed requirements of the University and the major programme. Students who have satisfied the special entrance requirements of the Biology and Chemistry, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Physical Education, and Primary Education programmes shall be granted unit exemption and are required to complete at least 80 or 60 units of courses before graduation, depending on the specific category under which they are admitted.

Under this new curriculum, students are also allowed to increase their course load from the second year of attendance onwards if they have fulfilled the prescribed requirements. They can therefore follow a faster pace of study and shorten the length of study in the University. Exemption from major requirements in specific programmes shall also be given to students as prescribed in the study scheme concerned. (Please also see Curriculum Structure of the full-time programmes on pp. 84-85.)

The curriculum structure and programmes of the Nursing Programme can be found on p. 85 and p. 111 of this Calendar respectively.

Programmes

Explanatory Notes on Codes and Signs Used

To distinguish Part-time Degree Programmes from their full-time counterparts, 'P' is always used as the third letter in the course code. The other two letters stand for the subject (e.g. AMP, BAP, BIP, CHP, CMP, ENP, EPP, MUP, PEP, STP and TRP respectively stand for Mathematics, Business Administration, Biology, Chinese, Chemistry, English, Primary Education, Music, Physical Education, Statistics and Translation).

General Chinese and General English

All students other than those of the Chinese and English Programme are required to take in the first two years of attendance six units each of General Chinese and General English, unless exempted.

Postgraduate Studies

The University first introduced programmes at the postgraduate level with the establishment of the School of Education in 1965. In the following year, the Graduate School was formally founded to undertake research training of graduate students leading to the award of master's degrees. In 1980, the University advanced into the realm of doctoral education.

The University awards the following higher degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Business Administration, Master of Divinity, Master of Education, Master of Philosophy, Master of Science, Master of Social Science, Master of Social Work, Doctor of Business Administration, Doctor of Literature, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Science and Doctor of Social Science.

The Graduate School at present offers instructions leading to doctoral and master's degrees through 33 graduate divisions.

In the current academic year, postgraduate programmes leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in the fields of anthropology, basic medical sciences, biochemistry, biology, business administration, chemistry, Chinese history, Chinese language and literature, Chinese philosophy, clinical and pathological sciences, clinical psychology, computer science, economics, education, electronic engineering, English, geography, history of Chinese art, information engineering, mathematics, music, physics, psychology, social welfare, sociology, statistics and systems engineering are offered. For a PhD degree, a full-time student shall normally spend a minimum of 36 months and a maximum of 84 months. A part-time student shall normally spend a minimum of 48 months and a maximum of 96 months.

Four types of programmes leading to the award of master's degrees are offered: (1) two-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Philosophy (MPhil), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Divinity (MDiv) and Master of Social Work (MSW); (2) one-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Arts (MA), Master of Science (MSc), and Master of Social Science (MSSc); (3) three-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MPhil, MBA, and MSW; and (4) two-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MA, MEd, MSc, and MSSc.

In addition, the Graduate School offers a diploma programme in social work to university graduates who majored in fields other than social work but who are now employed in social service agencies. To provide professional training for graduates of approved universities to serve in local secondary schools, the Division of Education also offers a one-year full-time course and a two-year part-time course leading to the Diploma in Education (DipEd).

Persons who have graduated with good honours degrees from recognized universities and who have the capacity for research may apply for admission to the above postgraduate programmes. For details, please refer to the General Regulations Governing Postgraduate Studies printed on pp. 336-345 of this Calendar and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Graduate School Brochure, 1992-93.

Business Administration

The Faculty of Business Administration offers two types of programmes leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration (MBA): (1) a Two-Year Programme (full-time), and (2) a Three-Year Programme (part-time).

The Two-Year Programme was previously operated by the Lingnan Institute of Business Administration established with substantial initial financial support from the Lingnan University Board of Trustees in New York in 1966. The Three-Year Programme was launched in 1977 with generous financial support from the local business community. The use of the name 'The Lingnan Institute of Business Administration' has been discontinued and both MBA programmes are now offered by the Faculty of Business Administration.

The major objective of the MBA programmes is to prepare men and women for responsible administrative and executive positions in business, government and other organizations. Classes of the Two-Year Programme are mainly held on campus. Classes of Three-Year Programme are held in the evening in the Town Centre in Tsim Sha Tsui East. The Three-Year Programme is designed to provide practising managers with the opportunity to learn new concepts of business management without interruption of their careers.

Admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme is open to graduates of recognized colleges and universities, both in Hong Kong and abroad, who hold a bachelor's degree normally with honours not lower than second class lower division or with an average grade of not lower than 'B' in any field of study, or to those who have recognized professional or similar qualifications equivalent to a degree. Undergraduates who expect to receive their bachelor's degree in the current academic year may also apply for admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme.

Qualifications for admission to the Three-Year MBA Programme are identical with that of the Two-Year MBA Programme except that applicants are also required to have at least three years of full-time working experience after obtaining their bachelor's degrees or recognized professional qualifications.

Clinical Biochemistry

MSc Degree Programme (Two-year part-time)

In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to the Graduate School, candidates are expected to have a university degree or equivalent in biochemistry, medical laboratory science, or in related areas with a strong bias towards clinical biochemistry. The candidates must also be working in a clinical biochemistry laboratory or related field.

The programme is designed to train candidates to acquire skills in the analytical, interpretative and management aspects of clinical biochemistry and to train these candidates in logical thinking and research methodology.

The programme is divided into 28 topics. Seven topics constitute one course. Each course carries five units, giving a total of 20 units for the programme. As the emphasis of the programme is on student initiative and self-instruction, there are no formal lectures and students are provided with study guides for self-studies. After a student has prepared a topic, a short test will be given. This will lead into an informal tutorial session in which students will be further quizzed about their understanding of the topic, and when questions from students will be answered. This will be followed by a short discussion about diagnosis of patients and related analysis.

A student will progress from one topic to the next upon satisfactory completion of the test. On completion of a course a student will be given a minimum grade of C. However, a student may attend a course examination at the end of each semester to get a higher grade.

In addition to the above requirements, a student has to present a seminar in each alternate semester, conduct a research project and present a thesis. One month of attachment to the Prince of Wales Hospital is also required.

International Asian Studies Programme

In keeping with the University's distinctive educational mission of promoting cultural exchange between East and West, an International Asian Studies Programme was launched at the University in 1977 with the support of the Yale-China Association. This programme is open to a selected number of students, research scholars and academic staff from overseas who wish to take advantage of the University's academic resources and research facilities in the broad area of Chinese and Asian studies, including the Chinese language training programme offered by the New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

The International Asian Studies Programme (IASP) is coordinated by the Office of International Studies Programmes and is fully integrated into the regular academic structure of the University. Programme participants from overseas and local students live in the same hostels. All courses offered at the University, except those by the Faculty of Medicine and the Faculty of Education, are open to IASP participants, and the programme itself also offers selected courses in Asian and Chinese studies taught in English for the benefit of both programme participants and local students.

There are three categories of participants: (1) associate students: undergraduates and graduate students taking a full load (12-18 units per term) of language and area studies; (2) associate research students: graduate students primarily undertaking research or writing their masters' theses or doctoral dissertations; and (3) special scholars: academic staff members or other learned scholars, normally of postdoctoral status, pursuing research, refresher or advanced courses.

Programme fees and financial aid for participants are respectively printed on p. 211 and p. 238 of this Calendar.

The programme is a yearly programme (September to May). Application for single term participation is subject to availability of places. Previous course work on Chinese language or Asian studies is not required for admission, but undergraduate applicants must have normally completed at least two terms of university study and graduate applicants must hold a BA degree. Associate research students and special scholars with genuine research or scholarly interest are especially welcome.

All inquiries and applications should be addressed to the Office of International Studies Programmes at The Chinese University of Hong Kong except those from America and Canada which should be addressed to the Programme's North American representative: International Asian Studies Programme, P.O. Box 905A, Yale Station, New Haven, Connecticut 06520, USA.

Cost of University Education

In addition to the prescribed fees listed above, all full-time students are advised to set aside funds for other items including meals, books, transport, personal and other expenses.

The cost of meals on campus is about HK$10.00 for breakfast and $15.00 each for lunch and dinner. It is estimated that books and stationery and other incidental expenses would be in the region of $3,600 a year. In addition, a commuting student may have to spend between $3,500 to $4,500 a year on transport. Personal and other extra expenses are entirely at the discretion of the individual student concerned.

In all, taking into consideration all fees and expenditure set out above, a full-time student will probably need between $33,000 and $38,000 a year to support his education at the University.

Scholarships and Financial Aid to Students

To help needy students meet part of the cost of their university education, the government has made provisions for grants and loans through the Joint Committee on Student Finance. In the academic year 1991-92, a total of 35 million dollars was allocated to 28 per cent of the student population, who depended on this scheme for financial support. The University and its constituent colleges also administer their own scholarships, bursaries, loans and campus work schemes.

Regulations of the University Library System

The University Library System consists of the University Library in the central area of the campus and the branch libraries at the colleges and at the teaching hospital. The University Library houses an extensive research collection as well as many undergraduate materials and the pre-clinical portion of the medical collection. The branch libraries contain reference and curricular materials, some special subject collections according to the needs of the colleges, and books and periodicals to support general education. These regulations apply to all the libraries. The Senate Committee on the University Library System reserves the right to revise these regulations at any time.

Details about opening hours are posted at the entrance to each library. Opening hours are adapted to the semester schedules.

Library Privileges

Library privileges are personal and individual. They may not be transferred to, or used on behalf of, other persons.

Privileges fall into three categories:

1. Borrowing

Borrowing privileges are extended to all registered students and academic/administrative staff of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Others may apply to the University Librarian for special Borrowers' Cards. Clerical staff, technicians and spouses of the faculty and administrative staff of the University may also apply to the University Librarian for borrowing privileges.

2. Reading

The privilege of reading is extended to visiting scholars, to researchers and to graduates of this university upon application to the University Librarian. Reserve books, however, are for the exclusive use of students and faculty of the University.

3. The use of special facilities

Carrels: not reserved for any category of library user; they are available for the convenience of all.

Study rooms in the University Library: on application to the University Librarian, staff of Assistant Lecturer grade (and above) and PhD students may reserve a room for three months, renewable if its use justifies it. Others who are engaged in research may also apply. The right to use these study rooms may not be transferred.

Seminar rooms in the University Library: upon application to the University Librarian, a seminar room may be reserved for a lecture or for a series of lectures or meetings which would benefit from the use of library materials and resources.

Photocopying: coin-operated photocopying machines are available in all libraries. A reader may obtain at cost photocopies of materials, provided there is no infringement of copyright.

Interlibrary loans: the Interlibrary Loan Librarian will attempt to obtain from other libraries books and other materials which are not owned by the University Library System and which cannot be readily purchased.

Admission to the Libraries

Every user of the libraries must show a University Identification Card, or a Reader's Card at the entrance of the library. Applications for Borrower's Cards and Reader's Cards are made at the Circulation Desk.

The loss of a Borrower's Card must be reported to the Library immediately; a duplicate card may be issued two weeks after the loss is reported. Only one duplicate will be granted within a semester. Change of address should also be reported to the Library as soon as possible.

Borrowing Regulations

Borrower Categories

Users of the University Library System to whom the borrowing privilege is accorded are grouped into the following categories:

1. Registered students of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.
 - (a) Undergraduate students.
 - (b) Graduate students; tutors/demonstrators who are registered students working part-time.
2. All teaching staff, including teaching assistants, full-time tutors/demonstrators.
3. Administrative staff: administrative assistants and above.
4. CUHK graduates: Upon payment of a fee of $100 per annum.
5. Special categories:
 - (a) Clerical staff and technicians, with the recommendation of their division heads.
 - (b) Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff.
 - (c) Others, upon special application.

Borrowing Limits

Individuals may borrow within the limits of the following schedule:

Library System Regulations

Category 1(a). Undergraduate students: 10 volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 1(b). Graduate students, graduate assistants, part-time tutors/demonstrators: 15 volumes (books) for one month.

Categories 2 and 3. Teaching and administrative staff: 30 volumes may be borrowed for up to 6 months, although they should be returned as soon as they are no longer required. Bound periodicals and non-current single issues may be borrowed for periods of three days. Current periodicals may be borrowed for overnight use only.

Category 4. CUHK graduates: five volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(a). Clerical staff and technicians: five volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(b). Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff: three volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(c). Others, according to special arrangement.

All books taken from the bookstacks must be charged at the Circulation Desk. Reserve books must be charged at the Reserve Book Desk: there are varying borrowing limits on these books.

Books obtained on interlibrary loan are borrowed through the courtesy of other libraries and their restrictions as to loan period and renewal are therefore observed. Usually the loan period is two weeks and the books may have to be used only in the Library. Photocopies of periodical articles may be obtained at cost.

Reference books, rare books, microforms and other audio-visual materials do not circulate.

Renewals

Borrowers may renew loans for two additional periods. To avoid fines renewals must be made on or before the last date of the initial loan period. Borrowers, with the exception of Categories 2 and 3, must renew their loans at the Circulation Desk of the issuing library.

Faculty members and administrative staff who require a book for more than one semester may renew it in writing. After two renewals, however, the book must be returned to the library shelves so that it may be available to others.

No book may be renewed if it is required by another person.

Recall

Circulating books and journals to be put on reserve for courses are subject to recall at any time. All other loans are subject to recall after two weeks (the initial loan period). In the recall notices, a new due date will be given, i.e. five working days after the date of the notice.

Borrowers should respond to a recall promptly. Late returns will be fined [see Fines (b)].

Overdue

The last date of the loan period is stamped on the date due slip at the back of each book loaned. When the loan period expires, an overdue notice is sent to all categories of borrowers. However, the responsibility of returning books on time lies with the borrower.

Fines

(a) Overdue – All categories of borrowers who keep books/items beyond the loan period are subject to a fine of HK$1.00 per item per day up to a maximum of HK$50. A fine of HK$1.00 per hour will be charged for each reserve book overdue.

- (b) Recall – The fines for not responding to recalls for all categories of borrowers are as follows:
- five working days after first recall: HK$1.00 per item per day
 - five working days after second recall: HK$5.00 per item per day
 - five working days after third recall: the Library may take any appropriate action to retrieve the items

Losses

Borrowers who fail to return books or who return books damaged beyond repair will be charged the cost of replacement (including binding) in addition to the processing cost of HK$20.00 and any accumulated fine. Damaged books and marked pages should be reported to the Librarian as soon as noticed.

Category 2 and 3 borrowers who fail to return or renew books after two terms and three recalls will be subject to the above charges, which will be sent to the Bursar's Office for collection.

Control Counter

Library users may bring in their bags and briefcases into the libraries whereas umbrellas should be deposited on entering the libraries. No food or beverages may be taken into the Library. On leaving the Library, all books, etc., must be inspected.

Loss of Privileges

Infractions, such as smoking, shouting and other disturbances, are forbidden in all parts of the Libraries. The Librarian or an appointed deputy may expel from the library building for the remainder of the day any person who is acting to annoy others or who is damaging books or other property. Payment must be made to cover all damages.

A gross breach of the Regulations may subject the borrower to a loss of library privileges.

- (a) Overdue books – After normal recall procedures, a written warning will be sent. If this is ignored, borrowing privileges will be withheld in all the libraries until the return of the book(s) and the payment of accrued fines.
- (b) Payment of charges – If a person refuses to pay any outstanding charges (fines, replacement costs of damaged books or repair of damaged property), all the libraries will withhold his borrowing privileges until the account is cleared. Repeated offenses may lead to a total loss of the privilege of using the libraries.
